Vol. 38 No. 31 | Four Sections | Lancaster Farming, Saturday, June 12, 1993 | 60¢ Per Copy | $19.75 Per Year

Family Dairy Focuses On Merchandising

GREENCASTLE (Franklin Co.) — Tidy-Brook Farm in southern Franklin County may soon be home to the top cow for protein in the United States.

Tidy-Brook Elton Sonja-ET, a daughter of Emprise Bell Elton, has the potential to rank as the highest protein cow of the breed in the July run. She is up against more than one million cows for the honor.

A member of the well-known Sally family of Holsteins, Sonja is currently milking 111 pounds a day into her sixth month on test.

Alan Meyers, 28, and his father, Mark, farm Tidy-Brook's 210 acres in partnership. They rent an additional 80 acres, and raise corn, alfalfa, small grains and soybeans.

Alan and his wife, Kendra, and children Ashley, 7, Whitney, 5, and Grant, 2½, live in the stone and brick farmhouse.

The Sally family has been at Tidy-Brook for as long as anyone can remember.

"The right genetic combination happened. It was nothing we did special, it just showed up here," Alan said. He is on a full-time flushing program with Tidy-

Farm Tax Reassessment Topic At Ag Forum

LEOLA (Lancaster Co.)—This doesn't mean farmers, agribusiness leaders and even county commissioners like the forced property reassessment program that's under way in Lancaster County. In cases brought by the City of Lancaster, several lower courts ruled in favor of the county commissioners who did not believe reassessment was necessary. But the Superior Court overturned the lower court's ruling, and Lancaster City forced Lancaster County to reassess all property to the tune of eight to nine million dollars. One mill represents approximately three million dollars in Lancaster County's economy.

At the Ag Forum Thursday morning, many concerns were voiced about the effects of the reassessment on agriculture in Lancaster County. One of the most forceful statements was made by one of

Grafting Ensures Delicious Kernels

ELIZABETHTOWN (Lancaster Co.) — What do you get when you cross a hickory nut with a pecan?

A "hickan," of course.

In that combination, the rich, full flavors of both nut tree varieties are accented to produce a truly memorable kind of kernel, according to Jay R. Book, president of the Pennsylvania Nut Growers Association.

There's no better time of year to ensure the nut tree you may be growing produces a fine kernel, with a large edible center, full-flavor quality, and that cracks easily than by learning how to graft properly.

Each year, the third week of March, the Association holds a Nut Grafting Workshop at the Dauphin County Agriculture and Natural Resources Center. It is scheduled for March 19, 1994 at the Center, 1451 Peters Mountain Rd., in Dauphin, according to Book. There, demonstrations on grafting are given to those who are producing varieties for sale or for those who discover they've inherited a a nut tree in the backyard and want to obtain the best kernel available.

The workshop educates nut growers on how "to get a bigger nut, retain the flavor, and look for the quality of nut that's easy to crack," said Book.

The 200-member Association meets regularly to discuss grafting techniques and to learn more about new types of crosses or new grafting techniques.

Strawberry Pay-Off Day

LANCASTER (Lancaster Co.) — How much are two quarts of strawberries worth?

If it's Neil Wenger's strawberries, it is $200.

At least that's what an anonymous bidder was willing to pay at the annual Lancaster Rotary Club Strawberry Roundup on Wednesday.

Neil's berries were judged the best displayed, most flavorable, and most uniform in size of the 19 entries that county 4-H'ers brought to the Farm and Home Center for judging.

The reserve champion ribbon went to Joel Leaman for his berries that sold for $50 to David Friedrichs of Lancaster.

Both boys considered the high prices a superlative payoff for the sweat, time, and frustration they invest in maintaining the strawberry patch year-round.

Wenger said that he got up at the crack of dawn to pick berries for

New York & Phila. Frozen Egg Report

Tuesday, June 8, 1993

Prices were unchanged Trade sentiment was steady and continued cautious. Trading activity was spotty and usually limited to fill in needs. Raw materials were generally available but breakers were hesitant to build high priced inventories and worked accordingly. Floor stocks were adequate to handle current buyer interest.

Delmarva Broiler/Fryer Market

Wednesday, June 9, 1993

Movement of ready-to-cook whole birds was about moderate and sufficient to keep offerings in fairly good balance, particularly on 3 pound and smaller sizes. Over 3 pound sizes were fully adequate but clearing. Live supplies were moderate; weights were heavier than desired at most plants. Processing schedules were heavy. Less than trucklot asking prices were unchanged at 52 to 63 cents. Trade sentiment was steady. In the part complex, wings remained in active demand, and supplies were firmly held. Leg quarters were available and difficult to place. Breast items were adequate, instances ample and slow to clear on bone-in.

National Egg Market

Wednesday, June 9, 1993

NATIONAL EGG MARKET - AT A GLANCE: Prices for extra large and large trended unchanged to higher in the Mid-Atlantic region; otherwise, prices were unchanged. The trade sentiment was generally steady. Movement of cartoned eggs into retail channels was rated as moderate in all reporting areas. Supplies were ample on the West Coast, adequate elsewhere around the country. Inthe Central States, prices for nest run breaking stock trended lower, checks and undergrades were unchanged. Trading was light to moderate. Offerings were adequate to instances fully adequate. The undertone was cautiously steady. In the Southeast, trading in light hens was too thin to report prices. Movement off the farms covered processing plant schedules. Demand was only fair and unaggressive. The undertone was steady.

Eastern PA & NJ Poultry Report

Tuesday, June 8, 1993

Prices about unchanged on light type fowl but trading is too few to report on heavy hens. Demand is only fair at best for ample offerings of leghorns and most processing plants are already booked through the month. Undertone steady at best.

New England Shell Eggs

Wednesday, June 9, 1993

NEW ENGLAND: Jumbo loose prices continued to trend higher while cartoned eggs and balance of loose held unchanged. Trade sentiment was steady. Demand was mixed but mostly about moderate. Supplies of jumbos were closel cleared to instances short while other sizes were usually sufficient to satisfy current buyers needs.

PRICES PAID TO PRODUCERS, CASES EXCHANGED, GRADE YIELD BASIS, BROWN EGGS LOOSE, AT FARM, CENTS PER DOZEN RANGE JUMBO .81-.84, EXTRA LARGE .75-.78, LARGE .73-.76, MEDIUM .55-.58, SMALL .29-.32.

Wednesday, June 9, 1993

Somewhat irregular but better than expected for mid-week. Supplies of boneless skinless breasts with tenders were adequate. Product available for immediate shipments were held with increased confidence. Buyer inquiries for late month retail needs went unfilled. Heavier breast cutlets without tenders were available and slow to clear. Line run breasts were in close balance with current needs with only a few offers reported this morning. Yellow skin leg quarters were fully adequate and trading was at lower prices. Wings continued short of trade needs and buyers paid higher prices.

PRICES PAID PER POUND, ICE PACKED AND CO2 PACKED BROILER/FRYER PARTS, DELIVERED TO FIRST RECEIVERS IN POOL TRUCKLOT AND TRUCKLOT QUANTITIES.

How To Plan A Great Cover-up.

First, stop by or call your DEKALB dealer and ask for SUDAX® brand sorghum-sudangrass products.

Second, plant them and watch a fast, thick cover crop emerge. SUDAX products are high in quality and feature erosion-fighting characteristics and drought tolerance. And when you plow it down, your SUDAX crop will return nutrients and increase soil tilth and water-holding capacity.

DEKALB

Earning Our Way On More Of Your Acres.

ST 6E

- Palatable, digestible, nutritious forage
- A high tonnage forage or great plowdown crop
- Fast regrowth, high tillering, fine stems
- High sugar content, low prussic acid potential
- Male-sterile to minimize seed set
- Produces maximum grazing yield while filling need for greenchop, hay or cover crop

SX 17

- High-tonnage record
- Resists downy mildew and anthracnose
- Extra sweet and juicy; very palatable feed
- High level of male sterility to limit volunteers next year
- Performs in humid areas with high nighttime temperatures
- An excellent cover crop

The OLD FARMER'S ALMANAC THIS WEEK WITH

JUNE 14-20, 1993

MAGNA CARTA DAY, JUNE 15.

NOT JUST ANOTHER NOVEL

Born June 14 1811 Harriet Beecher Stowe was the daughter of clergyman Lyman Beecher, sister of the prominent Reverend Henry Ward Beecher and wife of Calvin Ellis Stowe, a theological seminary professor But she is best remembered as the author of the antislavery novel Uncle Tom's Cabin. The furor surrounding the book's publication in 1852 resulted in unparalleled popularity (it was translated into at least 23 languages) and created a profound political impact — so much so that it can rightly be counted among the contributing causes to the Civil War President Lincoln acknowledged this when he met Mrs Stowe during the war and is said to have said to her, So you're the little woman who wrote the book that made this great war "

Those who do not feel pain seldom think that it is felt.

TIP OF THE WEEK

Remove marks from wallpaper by rubbing in a circular motion with stale bread.

EARTHWISE

Don't you just hate it? You finally find the time to mow the lawn and find you're out of gas Then you get the mower filled up and the cantankerous thing won't start! There is an easier way The new breed of nonmotorized reel mowers are ball bearing equipped for easy pushing (easier than gas powered mowers) and have tempered steel blades that hold an edge for years They're quiet and nonpolluting, less expensive to buy, and less likely to need repairs through the years Isn't it time you switched?

ASPARAGUS SALAD

2 pounds fresh asparagus
1 cup sour cream
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
½ cup fresh chopped parsley
1 tablespoon chopped chives
¼ teaspoon tarragon
¼ teaspoon salt
pinch pepper

Remove tough ends from asparagus and steam until tender, but crisp Drain and plunge into cold water, drain again Cut asparagus into 1½-inch pieces, place in salad bowl Combine other ingredients, mix well, and pour over asparagus Toss gently

Makes 4 to 6 servings.

The OLD FARMER'S WEATHER FORECAST

NORTHEAST: Cold and rainy, clear and hot south, warming to seasonable, some sun, some showers

SOUTHEAST: Rainy and mild, then clearing, seasonable, very hot Deep South

MIDWEST: Cool and rainy, hot north, colder, thundershowers and warming

NORTHWEST: Clear and warm, then cold and rainy, clearing and warming.

SOUTHWEST: Showers and cooler California and east, clear and seasonable desert and mountains.

OPINION

They're Good For You

William Butler Yeats, one of Ireland's greatest poets, once admonished his daughter that "fine women eat a crazy salad with their meat." The inference was that real men and common folks don't eat salads. That was in the early 20th century.

If Yeats were alive today, nutrition and health educators in the University of Maryland System — and throughout the nation — would no doubt try to bring him up to speed both on political correctness and "the New American Plate" message of National Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Month being observed during June.

The "plate" theme is a national campaign conducted by a trade organization and the American Institute for Cancer Research to help U.S. consumers realize that a diet rich in fruits and vegetables — at least five servings a day — is a key to healthier living.

In Maryland, educators at the Baltimore and College Park campuses of the University of Maryland System have joined forces with several state government agencies and the National Cancer Institute to target a more specific audience with a comprehensive long-range program to help people live longer, healthier lives.

That audience is low-income, pregnant women and mothers who participate in the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Women, Infants and Children (WIC) food program at 16 sites throughout Baltimore and in Anne Arundel, Baltimore, Cecil, Montgomery and Prince George's counties. Approximately 70 percent of the target audience comes from a minority racial background, mostly African American.

The Maryland "5-A-Day Promotion" takes its name from a recommendation associated with the Food Guide Pyramid released to the public last year by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, with consensus from various health agencies and organizations.

That recommendation was that Americans should eat five servings of fresh fruits and vegetables every day in order to stay healthy and avoid certain kinds of cancer.

Most Americans consume only half that many servings of fruits and vegetables. So the major goal of the Maryland program is to bring participants up to the recommended level, both for themselves and their families.

With the National Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Month in June and the new recommendations to eat five servings a day, mothers across America have added reasons to tell their children to "eat your veggies," and "eat your fruit." They're good for you!

NOW IS THE TIME

By John Schwartz
Lancaster County Agricultural Agent

To Keep Cows Cool

Summer heat stress may take its toll on cows in the form of reduced dry matter intake, lower production, poorer conception, and increased herd health problems.

To minimize these problems, Glenn Shirk, extension dairy agent, offers the following ideas:

- Keep cows cool by keeping them in a well-ventilated barn during the heat of the day.
- Feed a cooler ration by feeding more concentrate and less forage, but be careful to observe cows' minimum needs for forages and fiber. Be sure they consume at least 1.5 percent of their body weight as forge neutral detergent fiber.
- Feed the bulk of forage during the cooler hours of the evening.
- Keep ensiled feeds and total mixed rations fresh.
- Provide easy access to good quality, fresh water.
- Increase the nutrient density of the ration to compensate for reduced feed intakes.
- Increase certain mineral levels to compensate for increased excretion rates. Suggested levels are: 1.4 to 1.5 percent potassium, 0.45 to 0.55 percent sodium, 0.30 to 0.35 percent magnesium, 0.50 percent salt and 0.25 to 0.30 percent chlorine.

To Provide Adequate Water

The cheapest feed nutrient and the one consumeed in the greatest quantity by cows is water. Be sure cows receive plenty of good quality water.

In addition to the water cows consume in the feed, they also drink about 25 to 35 gallons per day. They should have access to water all day and it should be close to their feeding and grazing areas.

A dairy producer's goal is to maximize feed intake. If pastured cows have to walk to the barn or some other remote area for water, they may be tempted to linger near the water rather than graze.

Excess walking also increases cows' demands for energy, leaving less energy available for milk production. Streams supply water to many pastures. If the quality of water is inferior, it may be beneficial to fence cows away from the stream and pipe good water to the pasture sites.

Another alternative is to house cows during the heat of the day and provide them with good quality water and feed in the stable. Water areas also tend to get sloppy and muddy, thereby increasing the risk of mastitis. This risk is reduced if cows are stabled and the stalls are kept clean and dry.

To Control Flies

The secret to fly control is the elimination of fly breeding opportunities. Flies breed in damp organic matter such as manure, spilled feeds, and bedded packs. They do not breed in liquids or in dry material (under 50 percent moisture).

Ideal fly breeding takes place between 50 and 70 percent moisture. Thus, very few flies come from liquid manure storage areas or dry areas. They could be coming from calf hutches, bedded packs, accumulations of damp feed, and wet manure.

You first need to control water leaks, keep feed cleaned up, and have good air movement over the manure. For laying hens, you may want to consult your feed company about increasing the fiber content and lowering the salt level in your feed.

To successfully control flies, you will need to use a variety of methods. Monitoring fly populations, sanitation, water management, pesticides, and natural predators are a few of these methods.

Penn State researchers are looking for more effective control measures. We hope to soon be able to identify some new effective control measures.

DOING YOUR OWN "THING"
June 13, 1993

Background Scripture:
Phillippans 2:1-18.
Devotional Reading:
John 14:1-14.

I have recently finished reading John T. Alexander's biography of Catherine The Great (Oxford University Press, 1989) and was struck by the role that the sense of duty played in her era. It was so important then and is almost non-existent now. I suppose the skein of duty has been unraveling for many years, but we have certainly experienced its demise in our own time. While certainly no historian, it seems to me that it was the 60"s that did in duty, humility and self-sacrifice.

I understand why this happened--at least I think I do: it was a reaction to the sense of duty carried to absurd dimensions, those who acted like wild beasts during World War II and, when challenged, responded that they were "only" doing their duty. And, in the 1950"s during the Cold War and even the hot war in Korea, many rebelled against mindless obedience to duty. But it was Viet Nam in the 60"s that brought the coup de grace. This was also the era of the "me-first" revolution and we were told to do whatever feels good to us, an admonition that still is much with us.

WINDS OF CHANGE

Perhaps our society was overdue to break out of some of its stifling conformity and I believe that to some degree these winds of change were necessary. But anything can be carried beyond the point where it continues to be good and constructive. We have gone too far and it is time for us to embrace once more the concepts of duty and serving others, although not necessarily in the fatalistic way as before.

The key, I believe, is whether the sense of duty and self-sacrifice is imposed upon us from outside or embraced by us within as "our own thing." Paul points us to Christ as our model: "Have this mind among yourselves, which you have in Christ Jesus, who, though he was in the form of God, did not count equality with God a thing to be grasped, but emptied himself, taking the form of a servant..." (2:5-7). This passage makes it clear that obedience to the cross was not something that was thrust upon Jesus by either God or man. Servanthood was something he chose willingly. That is not to say that he wanted to be a martyr, but that he did not want to back away from his mission. He had a choice--the cross was not inevitable or inescapable--and his choice was the role of a servant. Because he chose God's will, the cross became for him, not something alien, but an expression of his own desire.

HOW WE SEE IT

Once more, it is a matter of how we perceive things, in this case: servanthood. As the world sees it, the role of the servant is the role of one who is not in charge of his or her own life. To be autonomous means to be able to do what we choose to do. And there is the rub, Jesus chose to serve and so servanthood was not demeaning to him. He felt no loss of self in offering himself. In fact, we may infer that he felt truly fulfilled. Servanthood is only demeaning if imposed upon us. But if we choose it, we lose nothing and we are none the less for it. In fact, we are more.

Paul shows us how much more, rather than less, Christ was for his choice: "Therefore God has highly exalted him and bestowed on him the name that is above every name, that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow...and every tongue confess that Jesus Christ is Lord..." (2:9-11). So, Paul is not calling us to Christian servanthood to impose upon us something that we do not want, but to offer us a fulfillment that putting "me-first" can never give us. It is o.k., even necessary, to do "your own thing" when, in doing it, you are also first of all doing his thing. When they are one and the same, we experience the highest possible gain. We do not have to choose between serving others and fulfilling ourselves, for they are one and the same.

Upgrade your operation and improve your cash flow.

Equipment doesn't last forever. And successful operations have a way of outgrowing their buildings. It's not easy to balance your needs and your cash flow.

Our lease financing program can help extend your capital and provide the necessary tools without restricting your cash flow or goals.

You decide.

With lease financing by Telmark you pick the equipment or machinery, new or used, including buildings. You determine the dealer and the deal. We also offer a TRAC lease for over-the-road vehicles. These decisions are yours.

Then talk to us.

At Telmark our only business is agribusiness. We take into account your seasons and your markets. We'll help make your operation grow with 100% financing and the tax advantages of leasing.

Count your advantages.

Leasing benefits vary by individual situation, but the lower net cost can put you ahead of ownership in many ways.

- ◆ No large upfront payment to tie up your capital.
- ◆ Individualized, flexible terms.
- ◆ Credit lines remain undisturbed.
- ◆ Tax advantages.
- ◆ Purchase, renew, or return at the end of the lease term.

Take the next step.

Telmark has leased millions of dollars worth of vehicles, equipment and buildings to thousands of agribusinesses like yours. The best way to find out how the leasing programs will work for you is to visit with your Telmark representative.

Just call us at (315) 449-7964 or call your local representative.

TELMARK INC.

FOR DOUBLE-CROP SOYBEANS THERE'S ONLY ONE LEADER OF THE PACK.

PURSUIT® herbicide is today's best tool for double-crop beans. It not only delivers the highest degree of overall weed control, it's also the only postemergence product that combines contact and residual activity to give you superior control of more than 40 tough-to-control grasses and broadleaf weeds. Including velvetleaf, foxtails, cocklebur, pigweeds, nightshades, common ragweed, giant ragweed, sunflower, shattercane and seedling Johnsongrass. Without causing crop injury. And because of its advanced chemistry and low rates of application, PURSUIT offers a responsible choice for the environment. That's the kind of leadership everyone can respect. And reason enough to try PURSUIT. See us soon.

Filling Silos A Dangerous Job

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Few farm operations are as dangerous as filling a silo, said a farm safety expert in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"This complex task combines raising heavy equipment and working in close quarters with powered machinery, extremely loud noise and deadly silo gases," said Dr. Dennis Murphy, professor of agricultural engineering. "It sounds like a potential disaster, but knowing how to handle these hazards will let you fill your silo safely."

Preparation for silo filling includes raising the unloader to the top of the structure. "Do this on a calm, dry day to reduce the risk of slips and falls," Murphy said. "Make sure all cables, wires, pulleys, and connections are anchored and working properly before you start.

"One person at ground level should raise the unloader. Another person should watch from the blower pipe platform, signaling if prolems arise. Never enter the silo while the unloader is being raised or try to crawl out onto it after it suspended. An unloader can easily crush you if it falls."

Moving machine parts pose the greatest risk during silo filling. Both self-unloading forage wagons and silo blowers are operated by power takeoff (PTO) shafts that often aren't properly guarded.

"A PTO rotates at 9 or 16 times per second at full speed," Murphy said. "No one can react fast enough to pull away once caught in the revolving shaft. Stepping over PTO shafts makes accidents much more likely. Walk around tractors and wagons instead."

Unloading wagons have a combination of moving aprons, beaters, conveyors, or augers, and an assortment of chains and sprockets. "Keep all protective machinery shields in place," Murphy said. "To prevent getting snagged, wear comfortable but close-fitting clothing and keep long hair tied up or under a hat."

Never enter a self-unloading wagon or reach into an unloading chute to speed the unloading rate while the machine is running. "If it gets clogged, disengage the PTO and stop the tractor," Murphy said. "PTOs can accidently slip into gear, so always stop the engine. Keep the unloading wagon's emergency shut-off device in good working condition. It could save your life."

As forage moves from the wagon into the silo blower hopper, it's carried by an auger or conveyor to the blower fan, which forces it into the silo. "Silo blower operators need to watch out for the PTO shaft, the exposed conveyor or auger and the blower fan blades," Murphy said.

Blower accidents are most likely when the machine plugs up. "If this happens, don't climb onto the hopper or try to force forage into the blower blades," Murphy said. "Turn off the blower, cut the power, and make sure the fan blades have stopped turning before you try to clear the machine."

Also be sure to securely fasten the silo blower to the tractor drawbar. Otherwise, the PTO could separate or vibrations could make the blower pipe fall.

Machinery is not the only danger associated with silo filling. "Silo gases can cause unconsciousness, injury and even death, especially in the first 48 to 60 hours after filling," Murphy said. "If you must enter the silo during this time, wear a self-contained breathing apparatus. If you don't have one, stay out of the silo."

Dangergous levels of silo gas may persist for two to three weeks after filling. "Before entering without a self-contained breathing apparatus, use the blower to ventilate the silo," Murphy said. "Open all doors, run the blower fan for 20 minutes, and leave it running while you're in the silo. Enter only after you have put on a respirator for toxic dust and have a second person standing by to assist in an emergency."

Silo blowers, unloading wagons, and the tractors that power them are loud enough to cause noise-induced hearing loss. "When all of these machines are operated together, the hazard increases," Murphy said. "Workers should wear hearing protection."

Children often think silo-filling time is fun, without knowing the danger. They may want to climb on wagons and tractors or help. "Keep children and other bystanders out of the area and allow only those persons necessary to participate in filling the silo," Murphy said.

Focuses On Merchandising

Brook Sally Cleitus and her family members. Dr. Larry Kennel of Cornerstone Genetics comes to the farm twice a week to do the flushing.

The previous Sally, a Ned-Boy, died last November. She peaked at 160 pounds as a 3-year-old. Eight of her daughters are milking; all have exceptional records. She is the dam of Sonja and Tidy-Brook Sally Cleitus, who has been the focal point of their flushing program for the past two years.

She is the top cow of the Holstein breed for milk in the nation and seventh in the breed for protein.

Marketing Program

Alan has exported 31 of Sally Cleitus's eggs to Europe, and seven of her bull calves are in AI. He has contracts for six more bulls domestically, and one to Japan.

"It's always been my goal to put a bull in AI," Alan said. He has sent 12, and has 23 more contracts.

Alan started his marketing program three years ago, using the international issue of "Holstein World" to obtain names and addresses of embryo buyers and bull studs. He sent pedigrees to several, then followed up with phone calls.

"It's like a full-time job," Alan said of the work involved with marketing embryos. "It takes up most of the evenings."

"He's constantly on the phone," Kendra added.

When Alan is putting a calf on a sale, he calls contacts who have shown interest in the family.

When visitors arrive at Tidy-Brook — a frequent occurrence — someone has to show them around, even if it's milking time or there is hay drying in the fields.

Some visitors are buyers, some are just curious, Alan said, but all are treated as potential buyers. They are given pictures, production updates, and pedigrees. In anticipation of visitors, Alan and Mark keep the cows clipped and the area scraped — and clean.

Alan said one of his biggest hassles of merchandising is obtaining, on short notice, semen that qualifies for sending embryos overseas.

He will refuse a contract if he thinks the mating won't work. "Usually they'll work with you," he said.

Management Changes

Because of strict rules concerning the exporting of embryos, Alan and Mark have made some changes in farm management.

They always use a fresh, sterile needle for each cow, and calves get colostrum only from leukosis-clean cows. When a top calf is born, it is not permitted to nurse its mother.

Sally is dry now, but when she is milking she is kept in a separate box stall and fed individually. "It's an extreme amount of extra work," Alan said.

Tidy-Brook's RHA is 19,300 pounds of milk. "That has suffered severely from flushing," Alan said. "We ignore it to concentrate on getting the maximum bottom line."

All of his cows, except two, are used to incubate embryos. Alan explained that a calf out of an Excellent cow might be worth about $500; a calf out of the Sally family is worth much more. If a cull cow happens to come in heat before she's shipped, she will remain in the herd to carry an embryo.

Division of Labor

Alan makes all the decisions on the cows and Mark is responsible for the field work.

Mark and Kendra milk in the morning; Mark and employee Joel Mills, 17, milk in the afternoon. Alan feeds the cows and Ashley and Whitney feed the calves.

They milk 80 cows in a double-5 herringbone parlor with 10 units. It takes them an hour and a half.

Kendra, 29, was not raised on a farm. "She's adjusted well; she does a good job," her father-in-law said.

Kendra does the farm's financial accounts on the computer. Alan keeps the books on the cows, doing the registrations and contracts, and keeping abreast of the changes in the current popularity of bulls.

Joel, a student at Chambersburg Area Senior High School, lived in the other half of the farmhouse as a child and liked to watch the farming operation.

"We sent him to feed calves," Alan said, "and now we trust him with anything with the cows."

Mark's wife Lyndell is no longer actively involved with the farming operation.

Getting Started

When Alan first wanted to flush, Mark was not enthusiastic, but he went along with it. He reluctantly agreed the second time.

Mark explained that he was hesitant because of the cost involved and because, "I'm just the old school."

Now he says, "Financially, it's been good to us."

At first, Alan sold a lot of embryos by sending photos and making phone calls to potential buyers. Soon, people started coming to the farm. "It came too easy to start with," Alan said.

Alan's advice for someone wanting to get into merchandising is straightforward: "Don't call people unless you have something they might be interested in. Watch the sales, see what the bull studs are taking in. What is creating value and interest? If you have something comparable, advertise and go for it."

In the absence of an Excellent homebred cow, the only way to get into merchandising is to buy in with a superior calf, cow or embryo, Alan said.

There is some risk involved, no matter how you get started. The overhead is high, and, "You have to be prepared to wait for your money," Alan said.

The merchandising business is cut-throat, he added. "It's fast-paced to say the least. We started flushing virgin heifers at eight months of age to get the maximum genetic advancement.

"I try to keep up," he said, "but I don't try to take advantage of people."

For Alan, the best reward is when people call for information and say they have talked with people who have visited Tidy-Brook and who say the Sally family is a good honest cow family.

"That means a lot," he said.

High-Selling Calves

"The nice thing about this is that you can take a calf to a sale and wind up on top or near the top," Mark said.

This has happened to Tidy-Brook four times.

At the Pennsylvania Showcase Sale in 1992, they had the second-highest selling calf. At the Eastern National Sale, they had the highest-selling live animal. At the ET Extravaganza in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, they had the highest choice. They tied for highest-selling animal at the 1993 Pennsylvania Holstein Convention Sale.

Alan and Kendra were the only couple from Pennsylvania at the sale in the Virgin Islands. "You get to meet a lot of people and go places that you wouldn't if you were just milking cows," Alan said.

Tidy-Brook will be selling a first choice female out of Sally Cleitus at the National Holstein Association Convention Sale in Rochester, N.Y. in June.

New Technique

The Meyerses recently started using ultrasound to confirm the sex of 60-75 day-old embryos.

Dr. Ron Kling of Accident, Md., did it for Tidy-Brook for the first time in April. Alan said that since the calves haven't been born ". . . we don't know if it works." But he has enough faith in the technique to make selling decisions based on it.

He has five pregnancies from a flush cow; normally he would have solicited two or three bull contracts. This time though, because Dr. Kling told him that four of the pregnancies are bulls, Alan went ahead and sold four bulls.

"I don't like to sell them if there's not a good chance I can fill the contract," he said.

Farm History

Mark's grandfather bought the farm in 1910. While the family does not know exactly how old the stone part of the house is, they know it pre-dates the Civil War.

The Hades family, who had several daughters, lived there during

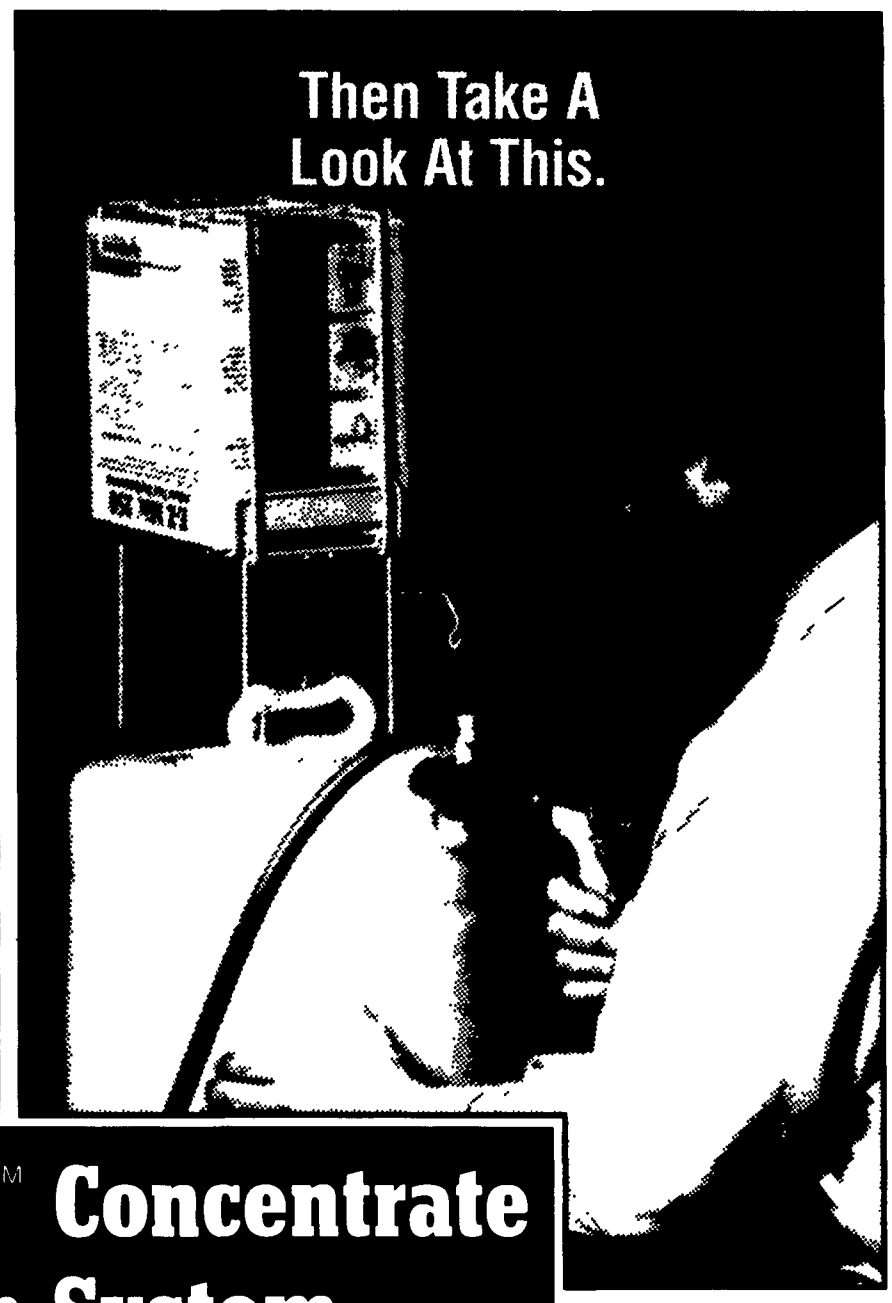
Tidy-Brook Elton Sonja-ET, daughter of Sally Cleitus, may become the highest protein cow of the breed in the July run. She was milking 111 pounds per day early May.

Tidy-Brook Sally Cleitus is the top cow of the Holstein breed for milk in the nation. She is scored a Very Good 87 with an Excellent mammary. Her USDA cow index is +3,370 pounds of milk, +105 pounds fat, and +107 pounds protein. Her CTPI is +1,513, placing her seventh in the breed.



The E-Z Mix™ Concentrate Teat Dip System One Gallon Makes 15!

Effective, Economical, Convenient Easy as 1-2-3

Klenzade introduces an innovative new idea in teat dips, the E-Z Mix Concentrate System. For effective mastitis control and unmatched convenience, put the E-Z Mix Concentrate System to work for you!

1. E-Z Mix Concentrate comes in light weight, compact one gallon boxes. Teat dip concentrate is available in three formulas, 1/4% iodine, 1/2% iodine and 1/2% chorhexidine. All provide effective bacteria control and skin conditioning
2. The E-Z Mix water metering gun precisely meters and mixes your water with concentrate to create a highly stable, accurate teat dip solution with no waste and no mess.
3. The 15 gallon re-usable drum provides handy storage of the mixed teat dip solution, which is shelf stable for one year. It also results in 97 percent less plastic to dispose of than a conventional 15-gallon drum.

No other teat dip concentrate offers the convenience, economy, and mixing accuracy of the E-Z Mix System combined with effective bacteria control!

Ask your local Agway dairy route salesperson, service center or store about the new E-Z Mix™ Concentrate Teat Dip System today!

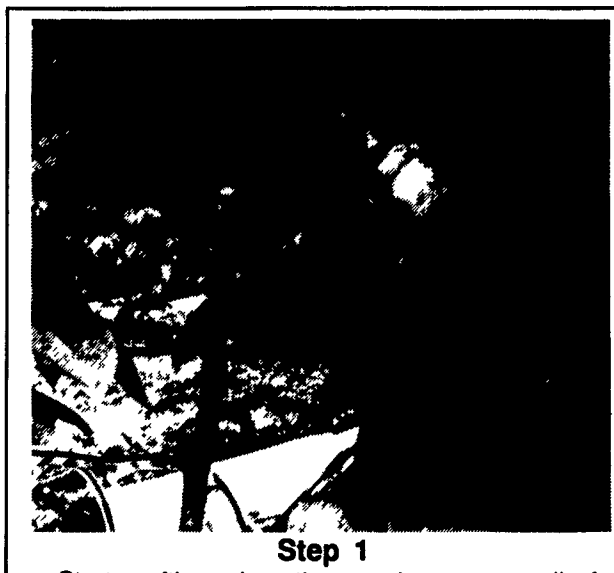
Grafting Ensures Nuts From Trees Bear Delicious Kernels

Twelve Steps To Grafting



Step 1

Start grafting when the weather report calls for temperatures in the 80s four days or more in a row. First choose a tree that is 2-3 years old. Here, Jay Book cuts the trunk of the tree at chest height, at a slight angle.

Step 2

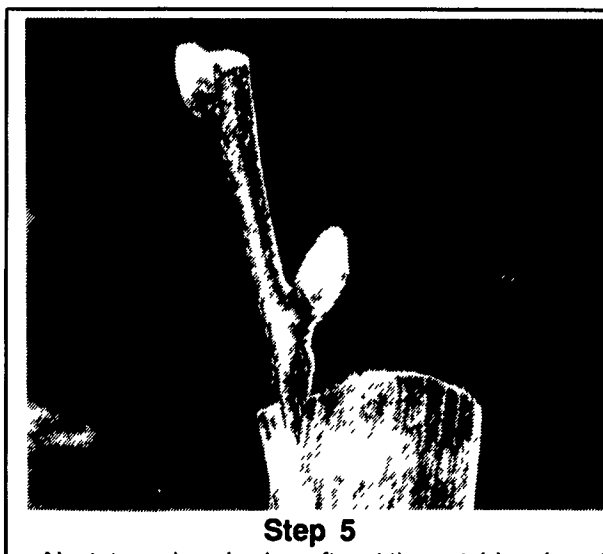
Next, remove all other limbs and branches and new growth, leaving only the trunk.

Step 3

Collect healthy last year's scion wood after 72 hours of nonfreezing temperatures and before the sap begins to flow. (Scion wood is the wood produced at the end of a limb, the new growth from the past year, which appears green in the spring and summer.)

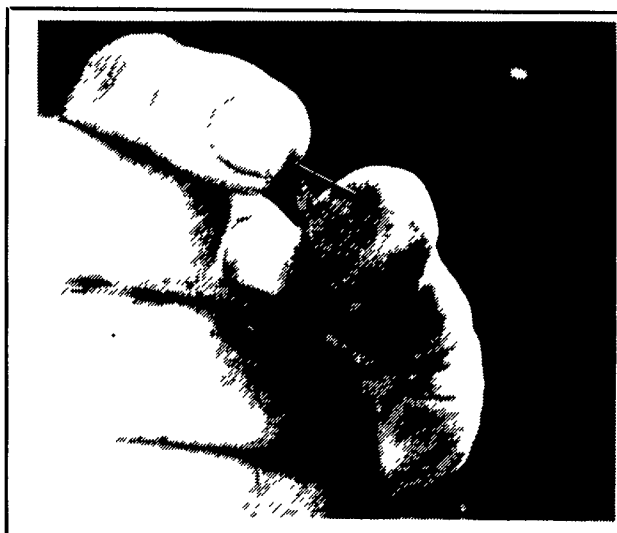
Step 4

Take the scion wood and choose one really healthy bud for top growth. Using a sharp knife, slice the scion wood to expose a "wedge" of cambium layer.



Step 5

Next, to make a bark graft, cut the outside edge of the bark of the trunk away, leaving a site to insert the scion wood wedge. Both cambria layers of the trunk and the scion wood should meet.



Step 6

Use a small nail like this to hammer the scion wood to the bark.

Step 7

Here, Jay Book hammers the scion wood and the cambria layer on the bark of the trunk together.

Step 8

Use a rubber band for additional support.

Step 9

Take a plastic bag and cover the scion and part of the trunk to retain moisture.

Step 10

Attach a side stick for birds to sit on. This will protect the new growth from bird perching and wind damage.

Step 11

Tend grafts every third day to remove growth on the stock. Once the scion begins to grow and is 3 or 4 inches long, stop tending. This Black Walnut, now several years old, shows where it was grafted.

Step 12

By attaching a new scion bearing the better nut to an existing tree — what grafting is all about — and by correct fertilization and care, a nut tree will bear a delicious kernel. These are Fayette hickory nuts.

PFU Warns About State Farm Labor Proposals

HARRISBURG (Dauphin Co.) — The Pennsylvania Farmers Union has been attending recent meetings on "the hill" concerning the effect of upcoming legislation on the family farming community.

House Bills 1050, 1051 and 1052 were designed to address the needs of the migrant and seasonal workers in agriculture, but the current wording of these bills encompasses all temporary and full-time help employed on the farm.

PFU President Robert C. Junk Jr. has been providing input as to the way this legislation will adversely affect the small family farmer.

The legislation as it is now written, will provide for better wages, better housing in work camps where seasonal help is employed, availability of emergency medical treatment in the seasonal labor camps, overtime if the work week exceeds 40 hours, transportation to and from the job sites and an accurate disclosure of how long the work will last when recruiting for temporary help.

Let's say a farmer needs to hire some temporary labor to help him get his hay in.

As the bills are now worded, he can only hire local high school kids or his immediate family or three local people whose primary source of income is not from agriculture and the work must be anticipated to be for less than fifteen days.

Anything over or above these criteria would have the farmer subject to this legislation.

PFU would like to see the wording of these bills changed to exempt the small family farming operation from this legislation and will continue to work toward obtaining this goal in any future negotiations.

N.Y., N.J. Area Milk Marketing Meeting Set

ALBANY, N.Y. — Informational meetings on upcoming changes to the federal New York-New Jersey milk marketing order are to be held at two locations this month.

On Thursday, June 17, at 10 a.m., an informational meeting is scheduled to be held at the Marriott at Glenpoint, in Teaneck, N.J., located at the intersection of I95 and Fort Lee Road.

Another informational meeting is scheduled to be held Tuesday, June 22, starting at 10 a.m., at the Albany Polish Community Center, in Albany. It is located at 225 Washington Avenue Extension.

Also on June 22, a public meeting has been announced concerning the proposed amendment to the Classification and Accounting Rules and Regulations for the order. The meeting is also to be held at the Polish Community Center and is set to start at 1:30 p.m.

For more information, call (518) 452-4410.

Grafting Ensures Nuts From Trees

visited Book's Nursery, on old Hershey Road near Elizabethtown, to observe how a nut tree is grafted.

In this case, A Hickory shagbark, with five leaves per stem and a rough, "shaggy" appearance to the tree's bark, was grafted with the hickory nut called Grainger.

The hickory nut is a favorite of Book's, especially the variety called Fayette (a shellbarb), which has a dark brown, thick shell, and a distinctive hickory taste.

Book maintains about 100 grafted hickory and black walnut trees on his 120-acre farm and nursery, in addition to 3,000 Christmas trees on about three acres.

He said that for years, the hickory nut had a bad name, because people associate the nut to trees that grow wild and bear a small shell that is hard to break and nearly impossible kernel to remove. Many of the ones growing wild were planted by squirrels, who put them nearly anywhere. But with special care and precise grafting, a wild hickory tree can be transformed into one that bears a delicious kernel.

No industry

"There's no industry for the hickory nut," said Book. "If I were a young guy just getting started in life, I would consider planting acreage of hickory nuts, because they are a quality nut, in terms of flavor, in terms of easier to crack, if you have the right kind."

Book said the Association is "looking for nuts that have fairly easy cracking quality . . . when they break open, you get kernels or halves. On the hickory nut, you look for a half. You try to get them so that they're a lighter color — the darker colored nuts are supposedly not as good and often have a different and distinct flavor."

Book said some nut trees have a genetic tendency to produce "not true" to their parent tree.

Necessary equipment

Growers who want to graft can pick up the necessary equipment from any hardware store or nursery supplier, which includes plastic bags, masking tape, scissors, hammer, small nails, clipper, sharp knife, hand saw, and rubber bands.

Following are the six "Grafting Rules and Procedures" compiled by Book:

1. Collect healthy last year's scion wood after 72 hours of nonfreezing temperatures and before the sap begins to flow. Scion wood is the wood produced at the end of a limb, the new growth from the past year, which appears green in the spring and summer. The scion wood should be collected in late February or early March. On the day of the demonstration at the nursery, Book used Grainger scion wood kept at 38 degrees Fahrenheit in a refrigerator.

2. Store scion wood in a paper towel, and add 3 or 4 drops of water to the towel. Wrap towel and wood in a sheet of newspaper, then put in a plastic bag. Store at temperatures between 36-38 degrees Fahrenheit and not with apples or cabbage. The reason not to store with apples or cabbage is because of certain toxicity produced by the particular fruit and other vegetables.

3. Start grafting when the weather report calls for temperatures in the 80s four days or more in a row. The best time to graft would be June into July. Graft black walnuts only after the stock has been cut off and allowed to bleed out. A bleeding stock will not allow the scion to grow.

4. Cover scion after it is placed on the stock. To place it on the stock, first choose a tree that is 2-3 years old. Cut the trunk of the tree at chest height, at a slight angle. Remove all other limbs and branches and new growth, leaving only the trunk. Take the scion wood, and choose one really health bud for top growth. Using a sharp knife, slice the scion wood to expose a "wedge" of only the cambium layer, which will produce growth of the scion. Next, to make a bark graft, cut the outside edge of the bark of the trunk away, leaving a site to insert the scion wood wedge. Both cambria layers of the trunk and the scion wood should meet. "The key to the success on this is making sure that you get those cambium layers contacting," said Book. "The cambium layer and the root stock has to contact on the side. If they make proper contact, then the food-sap flows in there." Use a small nail and hammer the two together. Use a rubber band for additional support. Then take the plastic bag and cover the scion and part of the trunk to retain moisture.

5. Attach a side stick for birds to sit on. This will protect the new growth from bird perching and wind damage.

6. Tend grafts every third day to remove growth on the stock. Once the scion begins to grow and is 3 or 4 inches long, stop tending. Remove the plastic bag when necessary to continue the top growth. Also, trim the new growth along the trunk as a result of the pruning for four weeks, then let grow (otherwise the graft can become top-heavy).

By attaching a new scion bearing the better nut to an existing tree — what grafting is all about — and by correct fertilization and care, a nut tree will bear a delicious kernel.

"Grafting in the nursery business is very easy to do," he said. "You get a preimium price for trees that are grafted."

STATE COLLEGE (Centre Co.) — The 1993 Pennsylvania Junior Judging Schools are fast approaching. All Juniors, regardless of breed orientation are invited to attend one of the schools.

4-H and FFA members are also encouraged to attend the school closest to their home.

Each school starts at noon and will run till 12:30 p.m. the following day.

Each school will feature at least 11 classes to judge, each person will have an opportunity to work one on one with an experienced judge on giving reasons. There will be ample opportunity to discuss classes and learn many of the basics of cattle judging.

There will also be time to visit, enjoy volleyball, softball and swimming and meet with other dairy enthusiasts from around the state.

Western School

the war. When the Confederate troops marched through on the railroad tracks adjoining the farm on their way to burn Chambersburg, they stopped at this house for coffee.

After the war, one of the soldiers returned and married one of the daughters. They lived in the stone house, then built the brick addition in 1896.

Family Activities

Mark's father, H. Norman Meyers, 81, lives in Greencastle and calls weekly for updates on the farm work. He comes out to watch whenever the classifier comes. "He says he doesn't understand the ET work, but he's interested in how things are going," Mark said.

Alan is on the county Holstein board and on the heifer sale committee at Shalom Christian Academy, where Ashley is a first-grader. He enjoys hunting and church activities, but "all have suffered due to lack of time because of the ET work," he said.

Kendra sews, is chairman of the mission committee at Antrim Brethren in Christ Church, and teaches Sunday School.

The Meyers family is to serve as host for the Franklin County Holstein Field Day set for August 3. The ultrasound technique will be demonstrated then, as will flushing. The speaker is to be Ron Buffington, of Ohio, who will talk on merchandising.

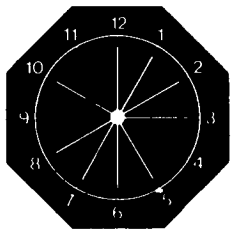
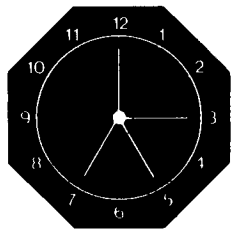
DRAG AUGER FEEDING SCHEDULE?



BIG DUTCHMAN CHAIN FEEDER FEEDING SCHEDULE!



How often do your feeders run in a day? It is generally necessary to operate drag auger feeders as many as eight or more times per day because of limited feeding space and the small quantity of feed presented at one time. That creates tremendous competition for the little feed available. The result of this competition is damaged eggs... from feet, toes and collisions. Big Dutchman chain feeders can feed your flock by running as few as three or four times a day, with little competition for feed, a calmer flock and fewer cracks and checks.

IF YOU ARE... FORCED TO FEED more than four times a day or during peak laying periods, call 911 for your egg casualties or. . . call (717) 393-5807 for information on how our chain feeder pampers your product. . . from cage to carton.

two and a half hours. From these he chose the most uniform in size and color to arrange in a berry box for judging.

His patch of 100 plants is the Earliglow variety because he and his parents, Nelson and Alma, believe the berries are the best tasting. Of the Wengers' four sons, one raised strawberries in previous years but never achieved grand championship. A younger son, Troy, placed fourth this year. Although the brothers raise the same variety, they have separate patches for their 4-H projects.

It's important to have the right consistency in the soil and not many stones, Neil said. Last fall, he added corn fertilizer to the soil before he rototilled it.

"I keep it (the patch) really clean," he said. "You'd have to search at least five minutes before you could find one weed."

Last year, he watered the patch because of the dry weather, but this year, he depended entirely upon the rain to soak the soil. He sells some of the berries but depends on his mother to make most of them into jelly or as topping for pancakes, short cakes, and ice cream.

Neil, who is 14 and attends Manheim Central Junior High School, said it's a bit early to tell whether or not he will go to college, but he is banking the prize money.

When Neil isn't in school or working in the strawberry patch, he helps on the family's 115-acre farm with 50 milking cows plus replacements.

This was the second year that Joel, a previous champion, took the reserve championship for his berries. He has 300 plants of Earliglow and Raritan in his patch that he has been tending for five years. He credits his consistent wins to the deep, rich soil made fertile from the family's compost pile.

The Lancaster Mennonite High School freshman has been hoarding the prize money and the profits from selling berries at a roadside stand for college costs. He estimates that he has earned more than $700 from his strawberry venture.

The Rotary Club holds the annual strawberry auction to encourage entrepreneurship among the youth. Auctioneer Harold Keller said that Rotary members' bids keep the American dream — financial rewards for hard work — alive.

Zoann Parker, 4-H extension agent, said that quality and quantity was evident in the strawberries and this was the biggest competition ever.

Judge Bruce Hellerick, horticulture agent, agreed. "It was fun to judge because I got to taste one from each box; at the same time it was difficult because the berries were almost all top quality."

This is the day that makes all the club members' work at mulching, picking blossoms and berries worth something, Parker said.

After the champion and reserve entries were sold, the remaining entries were auctioned and brought prices from $22 to $40 each.

REDUCING YOUR SCC CAN SAVE YOU MONEY

Knocking down somatic cell counts can earn bonuses for many dairymen and with the new regulations starting in July could be trouble for some. Don't let quality premiums slip away by ignoring little things. You can improve your cash flow by harvesting the quality premiums.

On the Pennsylvania DHIA report, cows are ranked from highest to lowest. Any cow showing up on the top of the list could be milk last. That way you don't take any risk of infections down the line to other cows.

If you do have high cows there are follow up procedures to specifically identify the problem.

Efforts to keep the SCC low can start before you DHIA sample are taken and the cows are milked. By making sure your cows aren't dirty. Environmental practices can also help to eliminate problems before they get started such as clean cows, clean dry bedding. Proper disposal of manure instead of letting it accumulate.

With cows in a clean, dry environment and also the most importantly the milking time sanitation. Cows should be washed with disinfectant and water with one disposable pa-

*The SCC on the DHIA report does not indicate which quarters are infected. Usually only one or two quarters are involved. Infected quarters should be identified by the California Mastitis Test.

*For every cow with an SCC score of 7, it takes 16 or more cows with a score of 3 to lower the herd average cell count to score 4.

Farm Tax Reassessment

the three county commissioners.

"My feeling on the whole thing is that never have so many people paid so much for something that is not necessary," said Brad Fisher. "It is one of the most striking examples of why we need tax reforms in Pennsylvania to get away from this unfair taxing system. The nature of property appraisals is that no matter how many millions you spend, we can't keep it up to date. It is a tax system that is an insult to taxpayers. Not only are we taxing you for government services, we are taxing you eight or nine million dollars just to maintain a system to tell us how much tax you must pay."

Jim Huber, chairman, county commissioners, said that in the early 80's they had looked into the need for reassessment and concluded that Lancaster County had one of the most equitable assessments in the state, and the expensive program to reassess each property was not necessary. Huber said that part of their concern was the effect reassessment would have on

But the new court ruling has forced the reassessment and a contract has been awarded to Automated Valuation Services, Ebensburg, to do the job. What's done is done!

To get some additional benefit from the reassessment effort that calls for a visit by an assessor to each property in the county, Terry Kauffman, county commissioner, said a Geographic Information System (GIS) and a 911 Emergency Enhancement System will be done at the same time. Aerial photos have been taken that will be scaled on the basis of one to 200 feet in the county and one to 50 feet in the city. These maps will be detailed enough for firemen and policemen to use in emergency situations.

To the agricultural community's benefit, overlays of these maps will show the soil types on the farms. This will help fulfill the need for farmers who want to apply for exception under Act 319, the Clean and Green Act. This Preferential Assessment of Farmland and Forest Land Act factors in some assessment based on production income as well as real estate values. Many farmers are expected to apply for this preferential assessment after they see what the new county assessment has done to their tax burden.

One of the questions raised at the meeting dealt with this issue. Ken Rutt, Quarryville farmer, businessman, said commercial real estate assessment is done on an income approach basis, and he asked why not assess farms the same way. Rutt acknowledged that Act 319 does this.

"But why can't we do this in the first place rather than make everybody file a lien against their property in order to comply with Act 319 to get a preferential assessment value," Rutt asked. "We should be getting this value in the original assessment process."

Other statements made in a wrap-up session that was running out of time for adjournment included:

--Commercial buildings appreciate while they are depreciated on the books. Many farm buildings for special purposes, such as swine or poultry, have no alternative use at the end of the depreciation period.

--The equipment inside farm buildings often helps sell the real estate but should not be part of the assessment placed on the farm. It's important to know that equipment is not valued in the real estate.

--The county commissioners plan to ask agribusiness leaders of finance and building contractors to help advise the assessors.

--Over 200 farms are under deed restrictions and in ag preserves. No consideration of how these farms will be treated in relative assessment has been addressed by tax officials in their presentations.

--Another meeting on reassessment will be held by the Lancaster County Farmers' Association Tuesday, June 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Farm and Home Center. Everyone is invited to this meeting.

Join the list of satisfied users with Chore-Time Ultraflo® feeders

More Than 230 Ultraflo® Systems Have Been Sold In The Northeast Since 1985 - That's Over 16 Million Birds!

Over 80% of the nation's top egg producers have already switched to Chore-Time cages with ULTRAFLO® Feeders!*

Here are the facts why ULTRAFLO® outperforms chain feeders

FEED SAVINGS. Customers report 1/2 to 2 lbs. per 100 birds/day—over $10,000 per year saved on a 100,000-bird house. Year after year!

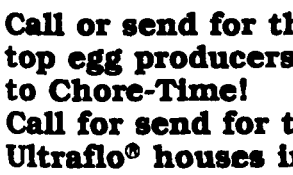
TROUGH DESIGN. High tensile steel for strength. No feed buildup or waste like chain trough.

NO HI-GRADING of feed, due to our design. Chain lets birds pick over feed while feeder runs.

REMIXES FEED. Our auger slowly revolves, keeping old and new feed blended. Chain doesn't, so feed can get stale.

REPAIR & MAINTENANCE. Ours needs the least of all feeders. Easy splicing with auger connector, and no troublesome corners or chain guides to replace. Saves money and time year after year.

SIMPLE OPERATION. "Push-Pull" Power Units with low HP motor are located along the feeder line as needed. Have hardened steel gears for trouble-free life. Microprocessor control lets you program feeding time to the second.



EASY AUGER CONNECTOR. Allows fast and simple installation, also quick and easy repair of auger if ever necessary. Auger and trough are both warranted 5 full years. Chain feeders are not.

Egg producers have been putting up with obsolete chain feeders far too long. Now there's a better way: Chore-Time's proven ULTRAFLO Cage Feeding System. Since introduction, more than 80% of the top 54 egg producers* have gone to ULTRAFLO. A lot of smaller ones have too.

They've all looked at the advantages and chosen ULTRAFLO. That's because it makes them more profitable. Total egg production and egg size—these are the best benefits of our complete feeding system.

Why not check out the facts for yourself? Contact us now—or ask any producer who owns ULTRAFLO.

Because the only negative comments about our feeding system come from our competition—not from our customers.

Plan Now To Consign For Fall Classic Sale

Members of the Penn State Dairy Science Club ask for support in getting consignments for the 10th Annual Fall Classic Sale, an educational event run cooperatively by the club and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association, to give the young people an opportunity to experience the planning and execution of a high quality sale. From the left, are Adam Tanis, Cathy Pavelski, Bryan herring, Kirk Sattazhan, Thad Sturgeon (kneeling), Dwight Stoltzfus (kneeling), Kara Tussey, Todd Rabenold, Susan Caldwallader, Andy Foster III, and perched on the Nittany Lion, from the left, Susan Bove and Jen Hummel.

UNIVERSITY PARK(Centre Co.) — The Penn State Dairy Science Club and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association are to team up to sponsor the 10th annual Nittany Lion Fall Classic Holstein consignment sale, set for Saturday, Oct. 30.

After last year's sale averaged $1,841 on 76 Holsteins, this year's sale committee is extremely optimistic about selecting cattle and managing the 1993 Fall Classic Sale, according to a news release from the club.

The sale managers and selection committee met in early May and are to be visiting Holstein breeders in the next few months to select cattle for the sale.

The 1993 Nittany Lion Fall Classic Sale chairmen include Dwight Stoltzfus, of Morgantown, overall sale chairman, and Thad Stugeon, of Fombell, assistant chairman.

Others involved are Adam Tanis, of Centre Hall, chairman of the Selections Committee; Cathy Pavelski, of Susquehanna, member, and Brian Herring, Farmington.

Other committee managers include Jen Hummel, of Duncannon, advertising; Kara Tussey, Huntingdon, publicity; Todd Rabenold, Kutztown, finance; Kirk Sttazhan, Womelsdorf, marketing and merchandising; Susan Bove, Ann Arbor, Mich., reception; Susan Cadwallader, Salem, N.J., arena preparation; and Andy Foster III, Petersburg, cattle manager.

Most Dairy Science Club members use the fall classic as an educational experience.

The sale provides first-hand experience in selecting, financing, merchandising, preparing, evaluating and managing dairy cattle. Last year more than 50 students were involved in the sale.

The goal for this year's sale is to select approximately 70 top quality springing heifers and young cows. In addition, a select group of top pedigreed calves will be sold.

Those interested in consigning an animal should call either Ken Raney at the Pennsylvania Holstein Association (814) 234-0364, Dwight Stoltzfus at (215) 286-5002, or either Larry Muller (8140 863-4205, or Dale Olver at (814) 863-3914, at the Penn State University Department of Dairy and Animal Science.

In the news release, it was stated, "The Penn State Dairy Science Club and the Pennsylvania Holstein Association appreciate your support of this important educational activity."

Bury a little residue. Or a lot.

The new White 445 Chisel Plow makes complying with residue guidelines and requirements easy. Options like rippled coulters and chisel points set at 15" spacing leave lots of residue. Concave coulters and twisted shovels set at 12" spacing leave less residue. And these are just a few of the combinations available.

Our deep-till shank option rips hardpan by tilling 4" to 6" deeper than chisel shanks. This reduces compaction problems. And our leveling bar option provides a smoother surface for your next pass.

White Row Crop Cultivators are designed for high speed

non Area Vo-Tech building located on the east end of town. Her friend, Karen Heiling, daughter of Richard and Josephine Heilinger, was named alternate.

The dairy pageant is designed to provide a forum whereby young women of the county have an opportunity to travel and develop public speaking skills and confidence, while at the same time helping to promote the wholesome image and healthfulness of dairy products.

The pageant is competitive in that the contestants perform skits they create to entertain and educate audiences about the qualities of dairy products. Also, contestants are judged for poise and impromptu abilities, and knowledge of the dairy industry.

In pageant competition, Bashore and her "friends" explained to the audience what they learned from "Mr. Milky the Milk Carton." Mr. Milky is a character Bashore created for her skit.

Bashore is active in 4-H, FFA and her church's activities, and she serves as president of the Norlebco 4-H Dairy Club, and vice president of the Northern Lebanon FFA. She is also a member of the Lebanon County Junior Holstein Club and active with the Little Swatara Church of the Bretheren.

She participates in a number of sports and works with children. She said her plans are to continue working on the family farm, where she helps milk 175 Holsteins with her two sisters and brother.

Bashore was crowned princess by outgoing princess Angie Baker, during the final ceremony. Following the pageant, the audience and contestants held an ice cream social.

Bashore's friend and now co-worker in the effort to promote dairy products, Heiling was named alternate princess.

Heilinger lives on the family farm and helps to milk their 85-cow mixed herd with Holsteins, Brown Swiss and Guernseys. She is also active in the Elco 4-H Dairy Club and the Eastern Lebanon County FFA.

With one year of high school remaining, Heilinger said she plans to attend Delaware Valley College to pursue a degree in agricultural science.

The rest of the Lebanon County dairy promotion princess court includes 7-year-old Jennifer Maulfair, daughter of Dale and Pattie Maulfair, who was named the county's little miss. For her talent portion of the event, Maulfair sang a song about milk, and then was interviewed by Henry Homan, local radio celebrity who served as master of ceremony for the event.

Other contestants for the little miss position wee Chanelle Horst, daughter of Kirby and Sheryl Horst and Erin Williams, daughter of David and Christine Williams.

Dairy maids selected were Stacy Krall, daughter of Glen and Linda Krall, Cornwall; and Amy Burkhart.

Young participants in the Lebanon County dairy promotion pageant are Jenny Maulfair right, last year' little miss Janelle Zimmerman; Erin Williams, and Chanelle Horst.

Judges for the event were Merritt Marks, former senior vice president of Hamilton Bank; Linda Sterner, active with Montgomery County dairy promotion activities; and Clarinda Leatherman, the 1987-88 Berks County dairy princess and state alternate dairy princess.

Attention to detail keeping the average Somatic Cell County down can earn you premiums in the milk check.

PA DHIA can help pinpoint:
- lost production due to subclinical (hidden) infections
- improper milking procedures
- milking equipment malfunction
- percent & level of involvement in the herd
- cows to culture for identification of bacterial cause

Using the SCC program can save/make money by reducing:
- lost production
- once damaged, cells cannot be replaced until the dry period; production is lost for the entire lactation.
- 70% of the cost of mastitis is lost milk production
- treatment/drug costs through early detection
- lost milk plant premiums due to increased her SCC

Rohrer Family Dairy Farm Continues To Modernize, Expand

VERNON ACHENBACH JR.
Lancaster Farming Staff

WASHINGTON BORO (Lancaster Co.) — When Robert Rohrer began farming in western Lancaster County on his father's farm, he had 10 cows, one bucket milker, and 15 steers.

That was 1953.

Today, Rohrer and his four sons and a few hired men run the largest dairy operation on test in Lancaster County. And on June 24, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., the facility is to be open to the public.

Bill Rohrer, one of Robert's four sons, sprays an iodine solution on the teats of this cow in the double-20 herringbone, computerized parlor. The Rohrers went to herringbone design with a double-10 parlor that's still in good condition, but not big enough to handle 650 cows three times per day. The family said they prefer the side-approach to the udder for milk prep and milking.

With the rapid exit reel locked into place, the next line of cows to be milked quickly gets into position and the teats can be accessed easily from the side in the herringbone design. In the middle of the ceiling are vents to allow heat to escape. They can be closed during bad weather.

The rapid exit reel allows all 20 cattle to leave the milking area within seconds — the time it takes for one to move, is the time is takes for all to move, increasing turnover and worker efficiency.

The Rohrer farm showcases some of the latest state-of-the-art designs and equipment. Some other aspects of the design are preferences, which make the whole operation unique and customized, even though much of the a new 569-stall free-stall building was pre-cast and hauled in.

The Robert Rohrer & Sons partnership operation is nearing capacity on milking about 650 Holsteins three times per day in a double-20 herringbone, computerized parlor.

While the area immediately surrounding the Rohrer farm appears much as it did when Robert's father bought it in 1956, the current Rohrer dairy operation represents a huge change.

Perhaps more so, the current facility represents a series of smaller changes.

Over the years, Robert Rohrer Sr. has continued to take advantage of new technology, as he was able to see it clear, and make it work for himself.

The latest change has the Rohrers almost doubling their milking herd, and only add one more man to the operation.

The expansion is different, however, than other changes done over the years. In effect, the expansion represents the creation of a heritage for the Rohrer family — Robert Rohrer said that if considered only his lifetime needs, an expansion after 40 years of work would not make sense.

Robert said that during his career, he has designed the farm expansions and modernizations at first because he wanted to stay in business and provide for his family. More recently the efforts and assumed risks were undertaken because he said he felt it was his duty to be able to offer his sons a place on the farm.

Robert Sr. and his wife Lorraine have four sons; all involved to varying degrees in the farm operation.

Two sons are partners, Mike and Robert Jr.; the other two, Bill and Tony, are still too young to make that commitment.

He said he didn't want to push his sons to go into partnership with him, or even get into dairying, but he wanted them to have the home farm as an option.

"If it didn't work out, well, then, at least I did my part," he said. "But, you know, today they are all still with me," he said.

As it is, of the fully fledged partners, Bob Sr. is responsible for the feeding and nutrition work; Bob Jr. does the breeding and herd health; and Mike is responsible for raising replacements.

Bill Rohrer spends a lot of his time milking and doing maintenance in the parlor. The youngest, Tony, is still in high school, but is coming on into the operation with more responsibilities.

They all live close together, yet retain their independence as adults.

Tony and Bill live with Bob and Lorraine in a ranch-style house across Charlestown Road from the farm.

Mike and his family live at the farmhouse. Bob Jr. and his family live on another farmhouse on the operation, where they keep heifers and a 130 sow farrow-to-finish operation.

They all pitch in with field work and manure hauling and whatever other work needs to be done outside of the specific responsibilities.

The According to the Pennsylvania Dairymen's Association 1993 Yearbook, last year the Robert Rohrer & Sons farm had been the second largest single milking herd operation in Lancaster County at 381 head.

With an average of 22,341 pounds of milk per cow, per year, they ranked 40th, on a protein production per cow basis, in a county with several hundred dairy farms.

That ranking isn't expected to last long — the Rohrers have bought quite a few springing heifers to bring on line, and expect the herd average to drop temporarily.

The business strategy of the

These cows return from the milking parlor through an archway-like computer screening device that reads identification tags on the cows' collars. The identification number of those cows that need to be separated for reproductive or health reasons are entered onto the computer. When the cow returns from milking, and passes through the computerized archway, gates are automatically opened to direct the cow into a separate holding area.

operation has always been to make milk and sell milk, Rohrer said.

The amount of milk per man, per year — which is a measure of the cash-flow success of an operation — had been more than 1 million pounds with 380 head, according to Robert Sr.

He said Penn State University economists had advised that

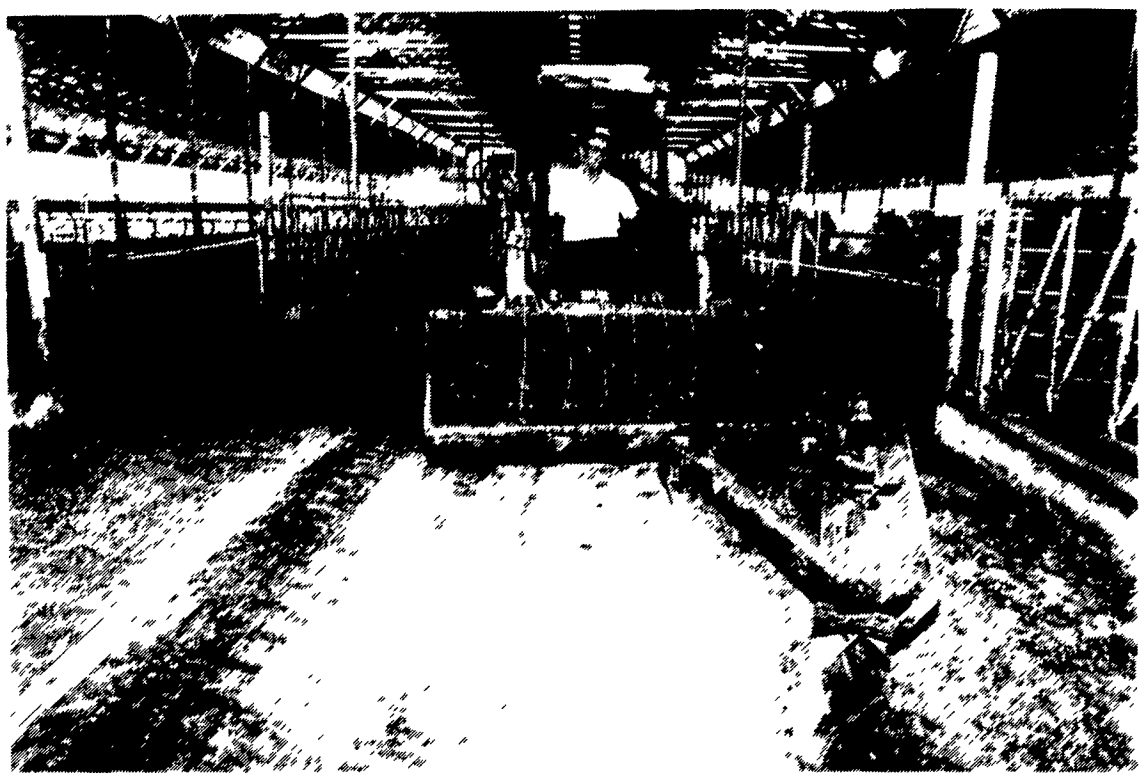
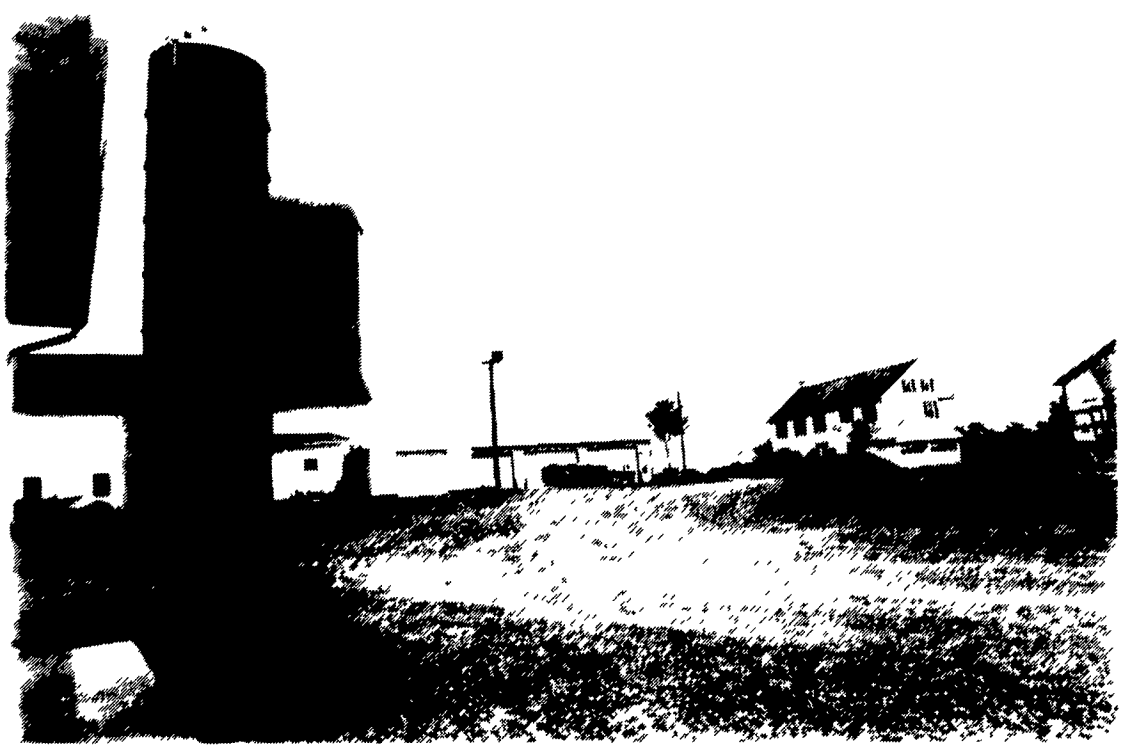
Robert Rohrer Sr. surveys the holding area of his new double-20 milking parlor. The aisle immediately in front of Rohrer is a catch aisle for cows needing treatment or artificial insemination. A head lock is located near the door, at the end of the aisle in which Rohrer stands. At that door is the medical storage area, with its refrigerator, shelves, computer terminal, breeding wheel, and semen storage. The screening is a one-inch square plastic mesh that Rohrer said should last for some time. With the freestall end doors closed, the entire freestall and parlor complex becomes bird-proof.

The computer terminal at the far end of the desk is linked to a main computer located in the main office at the front of the parlor where an Agri-Comp system is used. While still relying on a breeding wheel, the transition is being made to all computer-use. As cows cycle through on the wheel, the information is recorded on the computer and retired from the wheel.



Robert Rohrer Sr. uses a front-end loader outfitted with a rubber-tipped scraper to push feed back into the feed bunk so the cows can get to it. The swinging, electrified central gates move out of the way for the vehicle, while preventing cow movement out of the central traffic aisle in the six-row, 569 free-stall building. An offset, open vent ridge and sunlight panels are aspects of the roof that Rohrer opted to use. There are vertical poles located intermittently along the lip and the length of the free-stall's feed bunk. Eventually, if warranted, the poles are to be used to support a sprinkler and fan cooling system.

This traffic aisle and the animal flooring of the free-stall building are floored with slatted, precast cement pannels which allows manure and urine to pass through to a two-million gallon holding area beneath the building. Actually, there are two 1 million gallon holding areas, running parallel and 12 pumpout valves. The center feeding aise in the building is a solid divider between the two lengthwise holding pits.



Looking back to the farmhouse from the parlor entrance, to the right of the barn and two silos is the implement shed, the first building to go up under the recently completed rennovation of the Rohrer family farm. The ATV in the foreground, saves time and energy moving between areas on the large farming operation.

Brown Rot Diseases Meet Their Match

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Stone fruit growers may feel like they've "gone in circles" in recent years in their efforts to get effective control of brown rot diseases such as blossom blight and fruit rot.

Orbit®, a new stone fruit fungicide from Ciba Plant Protection, promises effective control along with several other benefits.

"These diseases have been very costly to stone fruit growers," said Dr. Eric Kuhn, Ciba product manager. "Orbit provides an effective, reliable option... consistent control at a lower cost than other available programs." Kuhn said that research proves the fungicide is a superior preventive product, and it's systemic so it doesn't wash off in rain or irrigation.

"Growers have other fungicide tools to work with, but some are limited when we get a severe outbreak of these brown rot diseases," said Dr. Eldon Zehr, plant pathologist at Clemson (S.C.) University. He said Orbit has provided exceptional control, especially in his studies when disease pressure is severe.

At the University of Georgia, Plant Pathologist Dr. Floyd Hendrix created extreme disease conditions, and Orbit significantly reduced fruit loss when compared with other available products.

Kuhn said Orbit can be applied as both bloom and preharvest sprays. "Two four-ounce-per-acre applications are recommended to control blossom blight," he said. "A third application at petal fall is an option when disease conditions persist or the blossom season is prolonged."

He says the timing of the federal label for Orbit means most growers will only be able to use it for fruit rot control this season. The label allows two preharvest sprays, four ounces each. The first preharvest spray should be applied two to three weeks prior to harvest.

Kuhn said the compound works well in combination or rotation with other available fungicides. And Orbit can be part of a planned resistance management program with other fungicide chemistries.

The product is not labeled for use on prunes east of the Rocky Mountains or on cherries anywhere in the United States. Packer line applications are not allowed.

There is a solution that can stop stray voltage immediately

DOES YOUR DAIRY HERD HAVE THESE SYMPTOMS?

1) Somatic cell counts of 200,000 and higher
2) Slow milking quarters or milk out
3) Nervousness or unable to keep milkers on
4) Breeding difficulties
5) Problems with first-calf heifers
6) Good management and milk production does not improve or is decreasing

Exhibit Space Available At Expo

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Requests for exhibit space at the 1993 Animal Housing Expo still are being accepted. The event, conducted by Penn State Cooperative Extension in cooperation with agribusiness, will be held July 13-14 at the Lebanon Fairgrounds in Lebanon County.

The The expo is designed to teach people to learn more about building and remodeling farm structures and about the proper housing and handling of poultry, livestock, and dairy animals. More than 1,4[illegible] people attended last year's event.

The expo also gives agribusinesses an opportunity to display a variety of products and services. This year, the expo seeks exhibits that address dairy, livestock, and poultry housing concerns, including building designs and materials, healthy and comfortable animal environments, materials, storage, animal handling equipment, and labor efficiency.

Businesses and individuals interested in exhibiting should contact general chair Dan McFarland, associate extension agent in York County, at Penn State Cooperative Extension, 112 Pleasant Acres Road, York, PA 17402-9041, (717) 757-9657.

In addition to exhibits, the expo features internationally and nationally known experts as well as local authorities who will speak, conduct demonstrations, and answer questions on a variety of topics related to animal handling and housing concerns. Among the featured speakers are Dr. Temple Grandin and Michael Gamroth.

★ With all working functions: tedding and raking.
★ For the tedding operations the rake arms are locked and the machine is tilted forwards, thus obtaining uniform spreading of the material.
★ During the raking function the rake tines are controlled in a cam track allowing the rake tines to be tilted upwards. This ensures very gentle treatment of the material.
★ Wide flotation tires ensure stable operation.

500,000 pounds per man per year was a good guideline for success.

The new operation is expected to exceed that amount of milk produced per man considerably.

There are other considerations, other that profit and ease of operation that go into expanding a business, which also represents a significant change from 40 years ago.

Located within several miles of the Susquehanna, environmental considerations are not news for the Rohrers. With the density of the milking herd on the immediate property exceeding the limit of 1,000 pounds of livestock per acre of land suitable for the application of manure, as is set under the Nutrient Management Act (which goes into effect in August), additional land had to be secured in order to have an acceptable nutrient management plan, even prior to the financing being secured.

It was not a problem, however, Rohrer said. A neighbor who doesn't raise livestock agreed to allow some manure to be spread on his fields. The Rohrers own two 4,500 gallon tandem-axle manure trucks which they use to haul and apply manure.

Rohrer said he considers spending money on labor-saving devices and designs as one of the most important edges in staying competitive.

"You've got to get efficient. You got to hold this labor (cost) down," Robert said. "Labor you pay out year after year. Equipment will last a few years (after an initial investment."

Such is the unwritten motto of the Rohrer dairy farm — welcome change and new ideas and techniques; embrace the challenge of understanding new research and tools; become immersed in the search for how the new things can be made practical and bring an advantage; adapt to the new efficiencies.

In other words: Grow or get out.

While many producers are still deciding whether or not they want to invest in an expansion, or whether to use a totally mixed ration, or whether going to a three-times-per-day (3X) milking may help make ends meet, Rohrer has kept abreast of the latest changes and incorporated them.

In 1973 he had his first free-stall barn and used a carousel parlor for 10 years; in 1983 his parlor went to a double-10 herringbone; then he went to 3X milking eight years ago; he's been feeding a mixed ration for years, though not necessarily mixed the way it is now.

All these changes are milestones at the 450-acre Rohrer dairy farm. Just as a family changed, the farm changed.

In the past, Robert Sr. pastured his cows frequently and didn't feed a ration as high in energy as today's mixtures. He shipped cans of milk to local Manor View Dairy.

"We didn't talk about pounds then," he said, smiling. "We talked about cans. We had 100 pounds cans and 75 pound cans."

Now a member of Atlantic Dairy Cooperative, he ships thousands of pounds of milk a week.

Even being a member of ADC was a change. He became a cooperative member when ADC bought out Turkey Hill.

Switching to ADC wasn't that dramatic, he said. He had been selling his milk to Turkey Hill for years. When ADC purchased the outfit, his mik still went to the Turkey Hill plant.

He said the change to a cooperative is an example of the need to be efficient to stay competitive: prior to ADC buying Turkey Hill, the Turkey Hill dairy concern had to buy cream for the large amount of ice cream they were making.

With the cooperative taking over the operation, the price of the cream charged to Turkey Hill dropped considerably, making the manufacture of ice cream much more profitable, Rohrer said.

With the new operation, labor has been eliminated in a lot of areas.

The new freestall barn sits atop a manure storage area. Lengthwise, underneath the slotted flooring, are two parallel 1 million gallon manure holding tanks with a total of 12 pump-out valves. The need to scrape manure has been decreased significantly. The barn floor stays dry.

The parlor is outfitted with the labor- and time-saving devices:

- A quick release reel which allows all cows to leave their milking station all at once, within seconds, and a new group to enter and take their place;
- Plate cooler and floor warming water is recycled for wash water and for cattle use;
- Computerized archways segretate cows according to what is entered on the main computer;
- Eventually all the farm management information is to be entered and stored on the computer, eliminating the bulk of physical file keeping and searching;
- The reproduction and health equipment and records are kept in a room located near the end of the parlor, on the return line, and the computerized, automated system diverts cattle returning from milking to a catch aisle with a headlocking gate.
- Feeding is done by tractor pulling a large Rissler TMR mixer and driving down the center aisle of the barn, where the floor is solid.

There are many other examples of minor aspects of the operation which seemed custom-made for the elimination or ease of labor. No searching for shovels, or other tools. Everything has a place and everything in its place.

Another benefit to the operation is the phsycological effect the newness and efficiency brings. Rohrer said working in such an operation makes it exciting to get up in the morning and go to work.

NUTRI-CATALYST

A Profitable Investment In The Future Of Your Herd

Nutri-Catalyst™ is a dietary ingredient that enhances the nutritional value of virtually all types of cattle rations and is designed as a rumen modulator that improves fermentation and digestion. It increases the availability of protein, energy, minerals, and vitamins in practical forage and cereal grain diets.

FEED: 1 Ounce Per Head Per Day (TMR or Top Dress).

Can Be Used With Any Feeding Program To:

- Improve persistency of milk production
- Obtain higher peak milk yield
- Improve milk quality, protein and fat test
- Improve utilization of good and marginal quality forage
- Improve hoof health and immunity
- Re-establish intestinal microflora following digestive upsets

Creative Festival Displays New Products, Methods

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

KING OF PRUSSIA (Montgomery Co.) — If you sew, do crafts or like to see what's new on the market, The Creative Festival is the place to go.

The Creative Festival is a three-day show held in 30 different cities throughout the year. Local and national companies exhibit machines, tools, supplies, kits, patterns, books, videos and more for almost every craft in existence. Free educational classes, workshops, demonstrations and lectures are offered throughout the festival.

If you want to purchase a sewing machine or serger, you can try hands-on classes offered by most of the major sewing machine companies. That way you can make a better qualified decision because you have first-hand experience on how fabric feeds through the machine and how easy it is to switch to different stitches.

Many of the exhibits demonstrate crafts at the booths, but for those interested in more in-depth teaching, 30-minute to one-hour workshops are held. These include free workshops on bowmaking, banner making, sewing swimwear, fabric painting techniques, strip quilting, tumble dyes, and much more.

Even if you are an expert quilter or cross stitcher, you will find new methods and equipment available to make these crafts quicker and easier. For example, there is a quilting thimble that you do not wear on your finger, and it allows even the novice quilter to make quick, tiny stitches. For those who like to finish projects in a hurry, several booths demonstrated new methods of quilting with machine without marking the quilt.

For those who cannot or do not have the time to sew but like home decorating, valance frames are available in which straight pieces of fabric can be inserted and turned into puffy valances and swags.

Some of the craft exhibits that gathered large crowds were Creative Ideas by Patti who used broccoli, celery, and other produce in an unique fabric painting projects; Magic Dip, a marbleizing paint kit that transforms trash into designer works of art; and sweat shirt decorating.

Several exhibitors demonstrated products such as irons, fabrics, tools, and saws. Recent developments in irons and ironing board covers make ironing a breeze. A Miracle Ironing Board Cover, made of Owens-Corning Fiberglass yarn is guaranteed not to burn. It reflects 95 percent of the heat placed on it, which means that the iron never needs to be set above a medium heat setting. Because the iron reflects the heat, both sides of the fabric are pressed at the same time.

Several irons on the market allow you to press clothing while hanging on the hangers. These steam irons give professional results.

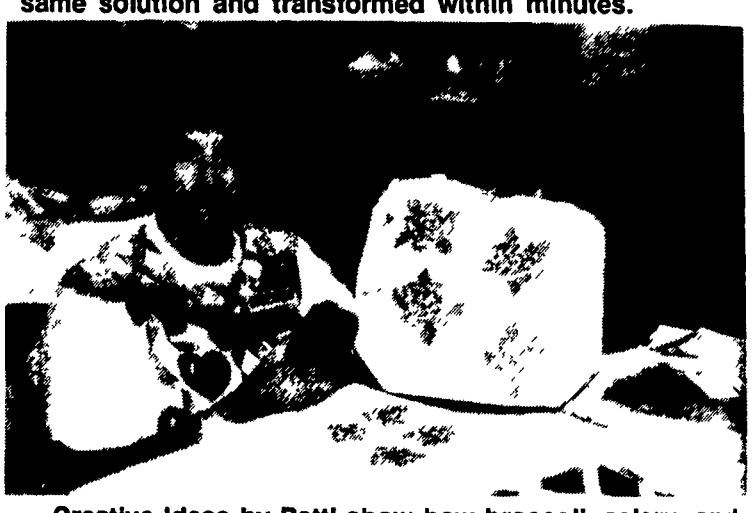
Machines, tools, supplies, kits, patterns, books and videos may be purchased at the show. Many of the exhibitors have special sale prices during the show, but you must be careful according to Fay Strickler, Penn State Extension economist. She said, "Like any show, some prices are marked up. It pays to have a general idea on prices so that you can determine which are truly sale prices and which are not."

Strickler was one of the economists who manned the Penn State Extension booth at the show. The Extension focused on distributing information for hobbyists to start their own business. The Extension also taught workshops on turning a hobby into a business, which includes information on legal issues, zoning, taxes, record-keeping, licensing, pricing, trademarks, and insurance.

Last week, a three-day Creative Festival was held at King of Prussia. It is an annual show and will be held next year about this time. Upcoming festivals located in Lancaster Farming's patron area include Howard County Fairgrounds in Baltimore, Md., on June 11-13; Meadowlands Convention Center, Secaucus, NJ, June 18-20; Erie County Fairgrounds, Buffalo, September 10-12; and I/X Center, Cleveland, Ohio, November 5-7.

For a complete listing of shows or advance tickets, write to Roth Exposition Group, P.O. Box 9, San Mateo, CA 94401. Regular admission is $6 per ticket, but tickets purchased in advance cost $5.

Sandra Larsen, holds a mailbox dipped in Magic Dip, a marbeleizing paint kit that transforms trash into designer works of art. In the background are other items dipped in the same solution and transformed within minutes.



Creative ideas by Patti show how broccoli, celery, and other produce is used to make unique fabric painting projects. The roses were made in seconds by covering a cut-off stalk of celery with paint and stamping on fabric.

Large crowds gathered to watch Kit show the audience how easy it is to dip a vase in Magic Dip.

For those who cannot or do not have the time to sew but like home decorating, valance frames are available in which straight pieces of fabric can be inserted and turned into puffy valances and swags.

If you want to purchase a sewing machine or serger, you can try hands-on classes offered by most of the major sewing machine companies during the three-day Creative Festivals held in 30 cities annually.

HANDLE EGGS SAFELY

Eggs are one of the most nutritious, economical and versatile foods provided by nature. When properly handled, eggs and egg rich foods are safe foods. However, if improperly handled, eggs may lead to illness (Salmonellosis) caused by a group of bacteria called Salmonella.

Symptoms of Salmonellosis include abdominal cramps, fever, headaches, nausea, vomiting, and diarrhea. The severity of an attack depends upon the individual, and his or her health, the number of bacteria ingested, and the particular species of Salmonella involved. The symptoms are usually relatively short in duration, but may be more prolonged in infants, convalescents, and the elderly.

Foiod poisoning caused by Salmonella is not uncommon, largely because the organisms are widely distributed in nature and easily spread. Salmonella is found in the intestinal tracts of humans, domestic and wild animals, birds, poultry, seafoods, reptiles and insects. Salmonella organisms can be passed from the intestinal tract to the hands and then on to food, so before food preparation begins, it is very important to wash hands and food contact areas well with soap and water. Food and preparation areas exposed to pets or insects may also become contaminated if proper sanitation practices are not employed.

A newly laid egg does not ordinarily contain bacteria. However, the shell may become contaminated due to contact with cages, feces, and other parts of the bird or during washing, handling and storage. Read the following tips for handling shell eggs to protect yourself and those you prepare food for.

* Buy eggs at retail from refrigerated cases only.

* Refrigerate eggs at 40 degrees F or below as soon as possible after delivery or purchase.

* Cook eggs thoroughly until both the yolk and white are firm, not runny. There may be some risk in eating eggs lightly cooked: soft-cooked, soft-scrambled, or sunny-side-up, for example.

* Realize that eating lightly cooked foods containing eggs, such as soft custards, meringues, and French toast, may also be risky for people with weakened immune systems and other high-risk groups.

* Eggs with cracked shells, but whose contents are not leaking, may be used in dishes that are thoroughly cooked such as baked goods, and casseroles whose internal temperature reach 165 degrees F.

* Dirty or leaking eggs should not be used.

* Keep cold food and egg products below 40 degrees F. and hot foods above 140 degrees F.

* Do not allow foods or egg-rich products to remain on the counter for more than one hour including preparation and serving.

On being a farm wife -And other hazards

Joyce Bupp

Beware. The enemy lurks all about.

The enemy hides behind the bushes. Waits in hedges and fencerows. Bides its time in underground foxholes. Spies from high in the treetops.

The enemy strikes during dark of night and broad daylight. It employs guerilla tactics and marches openly in lined batallions. In hand-to-hand battle, it bites, it scratches, it jabs with razor-sharp weaponry.

This is warfare. Break out the bombs. Break out the cannons. And the flyswatter and the ladybugs and the lime and the netting.

It's the pest-inside season — and the pest-outside season. From all directions, bugs descend in swarms, weeds overrun field and garden. Even the birds and bees bear watching.

Opening squirmish of pest-inside season was with the ants. Iddy-biddy, teeny-tiny, near-microscopic-sized ants that turned up on the kitchen floor. Our annual ant invasion usually coincides with the first warm week. That's those giant ants, which work in teams to cart off loaves of bread and even the cat if she doesn't move fast enough. They showed up right on time. Swarms of teeny-tinys were an extra added attraction this year.

Scatterings of anti-ant powder have discouraged the intruders, save for some diehards lusting after the jelly jar.

An explosion of pent-up flies is released the moment the barn thermometer hits 80 degrees. So, just as we dig out the cut-offs and T-shirts for barn chores, the flies send out search parties seeking soft places on cows to bite. Finding few, they reroute their mission to humans not swathed in rugged cowhide. Mother Nature's chilly nights have been a most supportive ally in this year's fly wars.

Spreadhing greenery into the pest battlefield scenery are perennial favorites like poison ivy, bindwind (we call it wild sweet potato), dock and that most indestructible of all indestructibles, Johnsongrass.

The mass of weaponry enlisted to control chaos in the veggie and perennial patches would pale under Pentagon scrutiny. A sharp kitchen knife is for digging down into tough root masses. One of nature's most toxic substances is then poured into the open wound - salt. Iodized, but it probably doesn't matter.

Yes, we even resort to chemical warfare, enlisting a weed/grass killer for those unpullable, weedy invasions that refuse to be salted to death. For legged pests, nicotine spray is effective and cheap. Soak a couple of cigarette butts in water, add a drop or two of dishwashing liquid for stickiness and apply to those creepy-crawlies bugging your garden. Do not inhale.

Lime remains my favorite — also cheap and safe — anti-pest dust. Good for sprinkling in nooks and crannies where flies lay eggs and for eliminating a host of veggie chewers. A plastic container with a lid punched full of holes makes for mess-free dusting. Could cause sneezing if the wind is right.

Then there's the robins, convinced that the strawberry patch has been planted for their exclusive enjoyment. We would never purposely destroy a robin — even over strawberries. But plastic netting we use for wrapping those large, round hay bales deters even the boldest berry-loving bird when its draped over the patch.

However, this pest-inside, pest-outside battle is not fought without casualties. While feeding my favorite rosebush a boost of nutrients and pest guard, my hand slipped off the garden trowel and smacked into a half-inch-long, razor-tipped thorn. The resulting muscle soreness and swelling of that hand has finally disappeared.

Just in time to scratch the poison ivy swelling on the other.

TAKING TIME

"Honesty is the Best Policy!"

It's late! My column should have been in today's mail and I'm still writing it. I had work assignments out of town the last two days and I just rushed to my desk to do the necessities. So...my game plan was to write a piece about how to get kids to eat vegetables. That topic may have to wait, because I've decided honesty is the best policy.

Right now my husband and I are juggling a few things — probably fewer than many of you — but for us they matter. In addition to two crazy work schedules, we're balancing softball, church, two graduate classes, a new garden, garage door contractors, routine bill paying, home repairs (how do you get rid of carpenter ants), visits to family, weddings, showers, and sundry notewriting and gift-buying tasks.

Sound familiar? What is it about our society that encourages such crazy schedules? Maybe I should ask what is it about my personality, too. Well, last night I made a choice. I stopped at the office after a long day out-of-town and worked for several hours. Instead of continuing to plug away at my rapidly accumulating desk work, I decided to keep my perspective and finally leave to do some family things. Two quick errands and a softball game quickly ate into my evening's time.

I did a lot of "that's okay" self talk as I rationalized leaving the office. But the best thing I did last night was to purchase a copy of Stan and Jan Berenstain's The Berenstain Bears and Too Much Pressure. I read it to myself. That's when I decided the vegetable article could wait.

Family specialists affirm that in order to be strong, families must spend time together. Parents can't expect to come home and automatically "connect" with their kids in the five free minutes in their day. Spouses can't expect to be able to immediately engage the other's attention. We need some buffers in our schedules. Time buffers allow us to unwind, to make transitions, and to warm-up to others before really locking in for a conversation or cooperating on a task.

Recently all my buffers had disappeared. In fact I was overscheduled and had conflicting time obligations. Am I the only one? If you're juggling too many hats, try these ideas:

1. Ask each person in your family to re-evaluate this week's schedule. What task is most important? What task can be deleted?

2. Before school ends, make a conscious decision about the number of summertime activities and obligations. Identify two things to simplify that schedule. Could you carpool and have one night free?

3. Decide to slow down enough to spend at least 30 minutes together as a family this week. Commit to a sit down meal, try porch sitting one evening or a pick-up game in the back yard. This may be a good time to read The Berenstain Bears and Too Much Pressure.

I know a temporary change of pace will be very healthy. I'd like to say, "let me know how it goes" but then that's one more thing for your To Do list. Instead, just enjoy the opportunity to "take some time."

Ironically, I began this Taking Time column several years ago to encourage you to take time for the important things in life. This week I'm the one who needs to take time. Thanks for allowing me to be honest.

For those parents who are fussing with kids over carrots and peas, hang in there. The next column is for you!

SUN Area To Salute Dairy Industry

SELINSGROVE (Susquehanna Co.) — Boscov's and the SUN Area Dairy promotion Committee will present the 19th annual Dairy Salute. The event will be held June 10, 11, 12 at the Susquehanna Valley Mall, Selinsgrove.

The three-day event is filled with fun and excitement. On Thursday, June 10, K.J. Riemensnyder-Wagner, a local singer/songwriter will entertain on Boscov's Mall Stage from 7-8 p.m.

From 8-9 p.m., Kate Humbert, Penn State Extension Agent will present a dairy cooking show, Dairy Does a Body Good!

Friday evening at 6:00 p.m. a seven foot-tall giant ice cream sundae will be built on the mall stage. Turkey Hill Dairies of Conestoga, will furnish 135 gallons of ice cream, 10 gallons of chocolate sauce, 25 pounds of pecans and 5 gallons of cherries. The best part of this is, the public will be able to sample this yummy treat.

Saturday will be a very busy day. From 10-4 there will be a Dairy Petting Zoo in the parking lot in front of Boscov's. The zoo, held under a tent, will feature calves from all of the milking breeds. At 11 a.m. on the mall stage, a newly organized ground called, True Heart will entertain with country and gospel songs.

At 1:00 p.m., an ice cream making contest open to the public will be held on the mall stage. Judges will taste-test for flavor, texture, and will review the recipe for healthy ingredients. Upon choosing winners, the public will be given samples. Registration forms at Boscov's Courtesy Desk.

During the day, the Pennsylvania Holstein Association will serve samples of milk punch. And the Dairy Committee will provide samples of cheese. A cow character will greet the children with a balloon.

At 3 p.m., in the parking lot in front of Boscov's, a Celebrity Milking Contest could be held. The contestants will be allowed 90 seconds to milk their cow and to decide the winner.

The highlight of the three-day event will be the 19th annual Princess Pageant on the Boscov's Mall Stage at 7 p.m. Contestants for the princess pageant are Rebecca Dugan of Northumberland County and Taryn Laidacker of Montour County. Assisting with the event and modeling fashions in the Fashion Show will be four dairy maids from Snyder County, Crystal Doak, Shannon Hoffman, Amy Newman and Denise Myer.

CHICKEN MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 package (7 ounces) macaroni, uncooked
2 cups milk
2 hard boiled eggs
½ pound orange processed cheese
2 cans cream of mushroom soup
2 cans cooked, diced chicken
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup corn flake crumbs

Chop hard boiled eggs, grate cheese. Mix all ingredients except crumbs the evening before. Put in refrigerator. Top with crumbs and bake one hour at 350 degrees. This makes one large casserole dish full.

CREAMY FILLED CUPCAKES

Cake:
2 cups sugar
3 cups flour
½ cup baking cocoa
2 teaspoons baking soda
2 cups water
⅔ cups vegetable oil
2 tablespoons white vinegar

Filling:
8-ounces cream cheese
⅓ cup sugar
1 egg
Dash salt

In large bowl, combine all cake ingredients and mix well. Fill paper cups two-thirds full.

For filling: cream all ingredients and drop one teaspoonful in each cupcake. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until cupcakes test done.

SPAGHETTI PIE

1 package (7 ounces) of spaghetti
2 tablespoons butter
⅓ cup Parmesan cheese
2 eggs (well beaten)
1 cup cottage cheese
1 pound lean ground beef
1 jar (15½ ounces) spaghetti sauce
½ cup shredded mozzarella cheese

Cook spaghetti according to package directions, and drain. Add butter, cheese, and eggs to hot spaghetti. Form mixture into crust in 10-inch pie plate. Spread cottage cheese over spaghetti crust. Brown ground beef in skillet. Stir spaghetti sauce in with ground beef. Layer on top of cottage cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Sprinkle cheese on top, and return to oven for 5 minutes.

Yields six servings.

PINEAPPLE DAPPLE

1 cup fine graham cracker crumbs
2 tablespoons sugar
¼ cup melted butter

Combine and press into 8-inch by 8-inch by 2-inch glass dish. Chill.

One 8½ ounce canned crushed pineapple
One 3-ounce package orange gelatin
1¼ cup boiling water
¼ teaspoon orange rind
3 tablespoons sugar
One 3 ounce package cream cheese
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup sour cream

Drain pineapple, reserving juice. Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add pineapple juice. Cool. Combine orange rind, 3 tablespoons sugar, cream cheese, and vanilla. Combine ½ cup cooled gelatin with pineapple. Set aside. Gradually add remaining gelatin to cream cheese mixture. Fold in sour cream. Pour over crumb crust. Chill until firm. Spoon pineapple mixture over top. Chill. Serves nine.

American Dairy Association home economists share some tips for making the best cream pies:

- Cooking time and temperature are important, and cooking shouldn't be hurried. If the heat is too high, the filling will cook too quickly, which could affect the thickening and possibly cause curdling.
- The cream filling will thicken noticeably during cooking and also will thicken even more upon cooling.
- Press buttered waxed paper or plastic wrap directly over the surface of the cooked filling to prevent a "skin" from forming as the filling cools.
- Cool the pie completely before serving to ensure that the filling is firm and holds its shape. Cream pies should be stored in the refrigerator, not at room temperature.

BANANA CREAM PIE

Crust:
1 cup all-purpose flour
2 tablespoons sugar
½ cup (1 stick) butter, cut into pieces

Filling:
⅔ cup sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
3 cups milk
4 egg yolks, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons butter
1-½ teaspoons vanilla
2 small bananas
1 cup whipping cream
Banana slices, if desired
Mint sprigs, if desired

Preheat ovenh to 400¢ F. For crust, combine flour, sugar, and butter; process just until dough holds together.* Press into and up sides of 9-inch pie plate. (If dough is too sticky to handle, refrigerate 10 to 15 minutes.) Place in refrigerator about 15 minutes to chill. Bake until golden, 12 to 15 minutes.

For filling, combine sugar and cornstarch in medium saucepan. Stir in milk and egg yolks. Cook over medium heat until mixture thickens and comes to a boil, stirring constantly, 8 to 10 minutes. Boil 1 minute. Remove from heat. Stir in butter and vanilla. Lightly press buttered waxed paper or plastic wrap over surface of filling and cool about 30 minutes. Spoon half of filling into pie shell. Slice bananas and arrange in even layer over filling. Top with remaining filling. Refrigerate to chill completely, about 3 hours. To serve, beat whipping cream until soft peaks form. Spoon dollops over top of pie. Garnish with additional banana slices and mint sprigs, if desired.

Dauphin To Hold Dairy Princess Coronation

DAUPHIN (Dauphin Co.) — The Dauphin County Dairy Princess Coronation will be held on June 18 at 8:00 p.m. at the Dauphin County Agricultural Center, Dauphin.

Jayanna Kopp, age 19, of Middletown, will be crowned 1993-94 Dauphin County Dairy Princess.

Jayanna is the daughter of Jay and Ann Kopp. She has a brother Adam, age 12. The Kopp family owns Stoneylawn Farm, Middletown. They grown corn, alfalfa and soybeans on 600 acres, and their dairy herd is 125 holsteins. Jayanna owns nine dairy animals.

Jayanna is a 1992 graduate of Lower Dauphin High School. In high school she was a member of the National Honor Society and the Student Government Association. She attended various leadership seminars and was involved with the school musicals and plays.

Jayanna just completed her freshman year at Elizabethtown College, majoring in communications. She is a member of the Business Club and has completed many television and radio assignments for her classes. She is also actively involved with her church.

Jayanna is a 10-year member of the 4-H Dairy Club, where she was held all offices. She is a member of the county, state, and national Holstein Associations. She served as Dairy Ambassador for Dauphin County in 1990-91.

Jayanna's hobbies and interests include 10 years of piano study, meeting and talking with people, outdoor nature activities, physical exercise, and spending time with her family. She is employed by Sunset Golf Course, Middletown, and on the family room.

A Dairy Maid and four Li'l Dairy Miss' will assist Jayanna with her promotional activities.

Lynn Leffler, age 13, of Gratz, will be Dairy Maid. Lynn is the daughter of Neil Leffler of Gratz and Leslie Schmalz of Harrisburg. Lynn was Dauphin County Dairy Miss in 1992-93. She helps out on the family farm with her grandmother, father, and uncle.

The four Li'l Dairy Miss participants are Rachelle Kopp, Janelle Martz, Gwen Switzer and Megan Warshefski.

Rachelle, age 7, is the daughter of Ronald Kopp of Middletown and Barbara Kopp of Hummelstown. The Kopp family owns Stoneylawn Farm.

Janelle, age 8, is the daughter of Jeff and Wendy Martz, R.D. 1 Elizabethville. They own a dairy herd.

Gwen, age 8, is the daughter of Leonard and Marie Switzer, R.D. 1 Elizabethville. They own a dairy herd.

Megan, age 7, is the daughter of Keith and Debbie Warshefski, R.D. 1 Millersburg. Her grandfather owns a feed mill.

A representative from Love 99 FM radio station, Millersburg, will be the Master of Ceremonies. Duane Good, editor of the Upper Dauphin Sentinel, Millersburg, will provide musical entertainment.

Admission to the Coronation is free, and the public is invited to attend.

Cook's Question Corner

If you are looking for a recipe but can't find it, send your recipe request to Lou Ann Good, Cook's Question Corner, in care of Lancaster Farming, P.O. Box 609, Ephrata, PA 17522. There's no need to send a SASE. If we receive an answer to your question, we will publish it as soon as possible.

Answers to recipe requests should be sent to the same address.

QUESTION — Mae Pugh would like a recipe for chicken rice soup like that served at Ponderosa.

QUESTION — Mrs. Kenneth Ulmer, Waymart, wants a recipe to can a mixture of mushrooms, onions, green peppers, and oil in pint jars.

QUESTION — R. Smith, Jonestown, heard about hunter green pumpkins, not squash or gourds, sold at a roadside market in Lancaster County and would like to know where to buy the seeds.

QUESTION — Patricia Corkell, Henderson, Md., would like a recipe for pickled garlic.

QUESTION — Patricia Davis, Dillsburg, wants to know where to buy pasteurized egg whites.

QUESTION — Sherry Craner, Bridgeton, N.J., would like a recipe for chocolate pasta, made with wheat flour. It is used for a dessert topped with sauteed strawberries and white chocolate.

QUESTION — Cissy McKeon, Birdsboro, would like a recipe for hand-dipped chocolate-covered strawberries such as those sold at Kaufman's in Pittsburgh. Cissy writes that it appears as if a layer of cream is between the strawberry and the chocolate.

QUESTION — Lisa Kerrigan, Bath, would like a recipe for Kosher Dill pickles that taste like the Claussen pickles that are stored in the refrigerator.

QUESTION — Melanie Kozlowski, Kingsby, would like a recipe for mousse such as that served at Ponderosa.

QUESTION — Jeanette Babson, Ottsville, would like a recipe for salt pickles, which uses rock salt and grape leaves. The original recipe was made in a barrel and the pickles were very crisp and sour.

QUESTION — Jessie Mayall, Mansfield, would like a good recipe for a potato bun that has frosting drizzle on top. Jessie remembers when she was little, a friend's mother always had a big plate of these on the table.

QUESTION — Eleanor Hertzog, King of Prussia, would like a recipe for 7-grain bread using sesame seeds, caraway seeds, and it looks like rye bread.

QUESTION — Estella Fink, Allentown, would like a recipe for Apricot Crumb Pie.

QUESTION — Ruth Zimmerman, Lancaster, would like a recipe for homemade mayonnaise that tastes like Real Hellman's and also one like Miracle Whip.

QUESTION — Pauline Fox, Bangor, wants a recipe for Lobster Bisque such as that served at the Nittany Lion Inn at State College.

QUESTION — Elsie Austin, Columbus, would like some good coffee cake recipes.

QUESTION — Sarah Burkholder, Denver, would like a recipe for a coal garden made with ammonia and Merthiolate, which grows in crystal-like forms.

QUESTION — Geraldine Long, Elkton, Md., would like recipes for cooking October beans. Also, how should they be planted and cared for.

QUESTION — Mrs. Norman Brown, Clementon, N.J., would like to know where to purchase dried mushrooms in bulk.

QUESTION — Helen Hess, Washington Boro, writes that a recipe for a fermented fruit sauce to top desserts had appeared in this column some months ago. She thought she clipped it but cannot find it. If any readers have the recipe to which she is referring, please send a copy.

QUESTION — Louise Graybeal, Renick, W.Va., would like a recipe for bread sticks such as those served by Pizza Hut.

QUESTION — Louise Graybeal, Renick, W.Va., would like to know if Red Seal Lye is still on the market and where she can find it.

QUESTION — Debra Shultz, Halifax, would like a recipe with main ingredients of tortellini or pasta, spinach, red cabbage, and Ranch Dressing. Is anyone familiar with this salad?

ANSWER — Karen Yourga wanted a recipe to can strawberries in a glaze that can be poured right from the jar onto a cake. She has tried several recipes that bleed and turn pink. She would like one with a dark red color in which the strawberries are not mushy. Mrs. David Fisher, Lewistown, writes that the canning process "mushes" the berries. Only fresh berries stay firm as whole frozen berries also get soft as soon as they thaw.

ANSWER — Peg Koser, Lancaster, wanted a recipe to make a drink concentrate using fresh blue grapes? Thanks to Minnie Auker, Ephrata, for sending a recipe. Also, Rhoda Martin, Myerstown sent in a recipe to make a tea concentrate. Perhaps, a grape drink can be made in a similar fashion.

Grape Concentrate

Boil together:
4 quarts fresh, ripe grapes
4 cups water
Strain. To 1 quart juice, add the following:
1 pint sugar.
Boil 5 minutes. Pour into hot jars and seal. When opening for a drink. Add:
1 part syrup
3 parts water

Tea Concentrate

4 quarts boiling water
1 quart tightly packed meadow tea
4 cups sugar
Do not pick leaves from stem, but wash thoroughly on the stem and pack tightly in a 1-quart measuring cup. Steep tea in boiling water for 15 minutes (turn burner off after you add tea). Remove tea, add desired amount of sugar, and boil for 10 minutes.
To use: 1 quart concentrate makes 1 gallon tea.
Contributor writes that this recipe is simple and the tea is delicious. She has some in the freezer and a pitcherful in the refrigerator at all times.

ANSWER — Debbi Collins, Nazareth, wanted like a recipe for a very moist homemade yellow cake. She wanted a cake with the texture and moistness of a packaged mix. Thanks to C. Eshelman, Jonestown, for sending this recipe that she thinks is good. If it is not moist enough, try adding a small package of instant vanilla pudding in the mix.

Yellow Cake

1¾ cup sugar
⅔ cup margarine, softened
2 eggs
1½ teaspoon vanilla
2¾ cup flour
2½ teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1¼ cup milk
Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour pan. Mix sugar, margarine, eggs, and vanilla until fluffy. Beat on high for 5 minutes, scraping bowl. Beat in flour alternately with milk at low speed. Bake 45-50 minutes.

ANSWER — For the reader who wanted recipes using buckwheat flour, here is one from Louise Graybeal of Renick, W.Va.

Buckwheat Cakes

2 cups buckwheat flour
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 tablespoon brown sugar or molasses
Water enough to make thin batter
Sift together flour and baking powder. Add salt, sugar or molasses. Do not beat too much. Bake on hot greased griddle. Serve hot.

ANSWER — L. Weaver, Ephrata, wanted recipes for cube steak. Thanks to Lisa Luken, Ono, who sent a recipe and writes another quick idea for cube steak is to cut cube steak in serving pieces. Lightly flour, then dip in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs. Cook in skillet with oil until done and serve. Serve this plain or with leftover gravy or spaghetti sauce or sauteed mushrooms.

Cube Steak Diane

1 pound cube steak
2 tablespoons butter
Pepper
¼ cup sliced green onion
1 cup water
1 teaspoon beef boullion
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon Dijon mustard
1 tablespoon cornstarch
Cut cube steak into serving pieces. Fry over medium-high heat in 1 tablespoon butter until just done. Season with pepper. Remove to platter and keep warm. Melt remaining 1 tablespoon butter and saute green onion until tender. Meanwhile combine remaining ingredients. Add to green onion and cook until thickened. Pour over cube steaks and serve. Makes 2 to 3 servings.

ANSWER — May Ozinek, Flemington, N.J., cake that is spicy and filled with raisins and chunks of apples. The cake has a crumb topping and is very moist. Thanks to Peg Koser, Lancaster, for sending a recipe.

Fresh Apple Cake

2 cups sugar
1¼ cups vegetable oil
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
3 cups flour
Mix sugar, oil, eggs, vanilla, salt, cinnamon and flour. Add:
1 cup raisins
1 cup chopped pecans
2 teaspoons baking soda
4 cups diced apple
Mix well and pack in 9x13-inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.
Topping:
1 stick butter
1 cup brown sugar
¼ cup milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
Boil in saucepan 2½ -3 minutes. Pour over warm cake.

CHEESE CAKE

Use 9-inch by 13-inch pan and do not grease it.
First batch:
1 stick butter
½ cup sugar
1 egg
1½ cup flour
¾ teaspoon baking powder

Second batch:
1 pound cream cheese
1½ tablespoon flour
3 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1½ cup milk
Mix well until smooth in a blender.

1 can pie filling
Mix first batch. Press into bottom of pan, then spread pie filling on it. Gently pour second batch mixture on top of pie filling. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 10 minutes. When cool, refrigerate for 12 hours or overnight before serving.

Hi, my name is Charlotte Rainville. I live in Norwich, Ct. with my husband Allen. I have a son Allen and daughter and son-in-law Sherry and Wern and granddaughter Heidi, who is 7 months old. My husband and I have a dairy farm. We plant corn and bale hay. We look forward to getting the Lancaster Farming every week.

Norwich, Ct.

PIEROGIES

8 ounces cream cheese, softened
8 ounces dairy sour cream
2 eggs
8 ounces cottage cheese
8 ounces grated cheddar cheese
1 or 2 onions diced, sauteed, until brown
4-6 cups of hot mashed potatoes
8-10 lasagna noodles, cooked
Salt and pepper to taste
Cook lasagna noodles and set aside. Cook potatoes: mash and whip while warm. Mix softened cream cheese, sour cream, and eggs until smooth. Add cottage cheese, ½ of the grated cheese, and ½ of the sauteed onions. Stir the cheese mixture into the warm, mashed potatoes until well blended. Layer the ingredients in a greased 9-inch by 13-inch baking dish. Start with ½ of the noodles, next the potato mixture. Top off with second ½ of the noodles. Add the remaining ½ of the cheddar cheese and onion.

You can make this a day ahead —it gives the pierogies a chance to develop a better blend of flavor. Also, you can freeze this dish.

Hi, my name is Sherry Rechlin. I live in Lebanon, Ct. with my husband Wern and my 7-month-old daugher Heidi. We both work on dairy farms. We both enjoy reading the Lancaster Farming. I enjoy the B section at night when the baby is sleeping.

COFFEE PUNCH

¼ cup instant decaffeinated coffee
1 cup sugar
6 cups boiling water
Mix and add:
3 ounces chocolate syrup
Let cool and add:
4 cups milk
1½ teaspoons vanilla
Pour over:
1 quart vanilla ice cream

Ida's Notebook

Ida Risser

My husband and I went fishing on a recent weekend. We tried five different places in Wyoming County. As we had not taken our boat, we fished from the banks of streams and lakes.

Most of the places that we tried were secluded and we seemed to be the only ones around. One place we asked permission of the landowner as we know that we appreciate it when other people ask our permission rather than act as if they own the place.

One shallow stream was so clear that I was sure we would not catch anything as one could see that only small fingerlings appeared to live there. The hemlocks and elms had low branches that almost touched the surface of the water. It was a pleasant but cool day to fish.

The following day we had the opportunity to fish in a private lake. Bass season was not yet open and so we only caught small fish. I kept five of the biggest sunfish and cleaned and froze them.

I've put a number of my house plants in the corner of our garden. But, they have not fared very well as the ground was too dry. Although, generally I find that most of them do fine and are healthy plants by fall when I repot them.

This year I planted some cotton and I'm anxious to see how it will grow. My peanuts are always slow to come up but usually I do get a good crop. This year I put them in the garden here at our new house instead of in the farm garden.

Our hillside behind our home has different flowers blooming than bloomed last year. So far I see daisies, flax, wallflower, and even a sweet william. I'm hoping we will again have a variety of poppies.

Con Artists Take Credit At Your Expense

NEWARK, DE — "Don't just throw away those unsolicited pre-approved credit orders you receive in the mail. Tear them up first or they could fall into the wrong hands," warns Maria Pippidis, University of Delaware Cooperative Extension home economics agent.

Credit bureaus compile mailing lists of people whose ratings make them candidates for pre-approved credit. Credit companies purchase these lists and then mail out millions of unsolicited credit applications.

"You can request that your name be removed from these mailing lists," she says. "Just write to the credit bureaus. Ask that they not release your name to companies who are pre-screening for credit solicitations."

Clearfield Pageant

CURWENSVILLE (Clearfield Co.) — The 25th annual Clearfield County Dairy Princess program will be held June 19 at the Curwensville Civic Center. The ceremonies will start at 8 p.m. followed by an Ice Cream Social.

There will be a Dairy Maid crowning for those girls 9, 10 and 11 years of age. They must live on a dairy farm, father work on a dairy farm or be a member of a 4-H dairy club. They must be of age by June 1. The girls must write an essay on one dairy product (250 words) and a paragraph on why they would like to be a dairy maid. They are to be mailed to Mary Ann Way, RR 4, Box 80, Clearfield, PA 16830 by June 15.

First-Graders Visit White Rock Farm

LOU ANN GOOD
Lancaster Farming Staff

KIRKWOOD (Lancaster Co.) — Did you know that vitamins, ball bearings, tires, crayons, shoes, and glue are made from cows?

That's what 25 first graders learned when they visited the farm of classmate Loren and his parents, Les and Lois Hershey, recently.

Brad Sommers does a cartwheel on the grass at the farm.

In fact, many more unusual items are made from parts of the cow. Les told the students that 98 percent of the cow is processed for use. That includes items made from the hide, hair, hooves, teeth, bones, body fat, and internal organs of a cow.

Students took turns drawing items from a box to learn about some of the articles that are made from the cow.

Baseball gloves, balls, rubberbands, and gummy bears were some of the children's favorite things that they found in the box. The students even got a gummy bear to eat and some homemade ice cream that they helped churn from the milk of a cow.

In order for the cow to make nutritious milk, cows need to eat a balanced diet and not junk food. The children got to mix feed for the cows. This included corn, corn silage, shelled corn, soybeans, and cotton seed. The children mixed it in a wheelbarrow and then dumped it in a hammer mill where it was grinded.

Every day, each cow eats 30 pounds silage, 15 pounds grain, 15 pounds hay, and nutrients such as calcium, magnesium, phosphorous, salt, and a vitamin pack are added. The nutrition of the feed varies depending on the soil and weather conditions, for this reason, the feed is analyzed at a lab every two weeks.

Each cow also drinks 30 gallons of water each day. If the cows are fed and taken care of properly, each cow will produce about 200 glasses of milk each day.

The farmer told the children how he grows hay for the cows. When he cuts the hay, he cannot see what is in the tall grass. Unfortunately, many people throw trash in the fields as they drive by in the car. The trash gets in the feed. Broken soda bottles and empty Coke cans can cut the cow's throat or tongue and can even kill a cow. The broken glass and sharp tin can also flatten tractor tires. It costs $600 to $1,000 to replace a tractor tire.

Les Hershey holds a special surprise — a cow pie that he made for the teacher's birthday. After it was baked in the sun, the cow pie was topped with birthday candles. Of course, the teacher and the children did not eat the pie, but they learned that cow pies are full of nutrition that helps crops grow when spread on the fields.

"If you litter a farmer's field, it is just like someone who would spit on your food or lay a cigarette on it," Les said.

The students petted the cows, puppies, bunnies, and the sheep on the farm. They climbed on the tractors and had a hay ride on the wagon. They made sun shots by placing leaves and flowers on a special piece of paper under glass that was placed in the sun for a few minutes. The paper was then dipped in water and the outline of the leaves and flowers made a pretty print picture for them to take home.

The students said that it was fun to see where food comes from. Before they visited the farm, they took a test to see how much they knew about farm life. Here is the quiz for you to take.

The 25 students were divided into groups and took turns playing with the floppy-ear bunnies.

Water Powers Woolen Mill Revival

LINDA WILLIAMS
Bedford Co. Correspondent

WATERSIDE (Bedford Co.) Todd Detwiler is attempting to wear his grandfather's big shoes in more ways than one.

In 1971, when Maurice Clouse, Todd's grandfather, died, he left behind an old hydroelectric woolen mill.

Now, thanks to his grandson, the residents of Waterside will once again hear the humming of the cleaners, pickers, looms, and other related machines as the old mill resumes business as usual.

Meanwhile, Todd is running for the office of District Justice, a position once held by his grandfather.

With fleece balls scattered across the floor and the strong smell of lanolin in the air, Todd wears a satisfied smile as he fondly remembers his childhood playing in this old mill.

"I always thought I wanted to leave here," Todd smiles now. "I was majoring in international business at a college in Virginia when my dad called and said the old family mill was for sale."

"From then on, I couldn't get it out of my mind. I thought about it first thing in the morning and last thing at night. Even when I was eating, it was on my mind. Two weeks later, I called dad and told him I was coming home to reopen the mill."

As Todd speaks he walks to the window where a torrent of water is pouring over the dam outside. "It can produce enough electricity to light up all of Waterside," he smiles. "And, certainly enough to run all of these machines."

It also provides electricity for the mill apartment where Todd resides.

Joining Todd in his venture is a young, enthusiastic, Penn State business agriculture student who has a twinkle in his brown eyes at the very mention of the mill.

Bursting through a door that hadn't been opened in 20 years, he surprised Todd one evening by offering his help.

Together, the two have spent more than a year researching and studying hydroelectric power and the many intricate machines in the mill. Todd is grateful to some of the senior citizens in the community who worked in the mill and came forth to offer advice. "I've had machine and mill experts from as far away as New England fly here to help me," Todd says appreciatively.

"Every part on every machine is made of either leather, wood, or steel," Todd says. "No matter what it is, we can duplicate it. These are parts we can order, but usually, we must make them ourselves."

Research indicates that the mill dates back to 1860. It is possible the original mill burned and was rebuilt even prior to that date. An ad from a newspaper in 1860 asks for a "weaver," who must be both Democrat and sober.

A ledger reveals that products created at the mill include woolen skirts, stockings, trousers, batting, and blankets.

When production ceased in 1971, the main product was blankets. Almost every Sunday School in the area purchased one for each newlywed. Cost was in the $15 brackets.

Batting and blankets will be the first two items to come off of the looms as the mill reopens, hopefully early this coming fall. "We already have a full order for our first run," Todd comments.

The blankets will bear the labels from the label makers of the 1960s. "We had to do some research on that one, but we finally located the company," Todd smiles broadly.

(Turn to Page B20)

Outside the old mill, water cascades over the dam providing ample electricity for Todd's living quarters and the mill equipment.

ASPARAGUS POTATO SOUP

14 ounces chicken broth
3 medium potatoes, diced
⅓ cup onion, chopped
5 ounces American cheese
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
1¼ cup half and half
10-ounces asparagus

Combine broth, vegetables, and nutmeg. Bring to a boil. Cover, reduce heat, and simmer 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Stir in remaining ingredients and heat thoroughly. Makes 6 cups.

We have a 100-acre, 55-cow dairy operation in Lancaster County along the Conestoga River. Our son Brad, 2½, helps us out by helping to get the cows up from the meadow, spreading newspaper bedding, and sometimes bottle-feeding the calves. Because one of his first words was "moo," we figure he will love farming and cows in particular. We can't wait for him to begin helping to milk the cows! We live a mile from Brad's grandparents, whom he loves to visit. The readers of Lancaster Farming hear a lot about Brad, because his grandmother likes to write about him in Ida's Notebook.

FARMER'S FAVORITE CASSEROLE

8 medium-sized potatoes
16-ounce bag frozen peas and carrots
1 pound hot dogs, sliced into ⅓-inch pieces
¾ pound Velveeta
2 tablespoons butter
½ cup milk

Wash and peel potatoes. Dice into medium bites. Cook until tender, don't overcook. Cook peas and carrots until tender. Drain vegetables. In a 4-quart pan, melt butter. Add milk and Velveeta. Stir over low heat until cheese is melted. Add vegetables, sliced hot dogs, and salt and pepper to taste.

Serves 4 hungry farmers.

I'm the Pennsylvania First Alternate and Franklin County Dairy Princess. Charles, Jewel, 14-year-old Carmen, and I farm 200 acres of alfalfa, forage, sorghum, sudax, corn, and wheat, and we milk 70 Holsteins.

I usually milk in the evenings after school and on weekends when I'm not promoting dairy products. My parents milk in the morning. In the afternoon, my mom milks with me while my dad does the field work. Carmen feeds the calves. We have a hired man who feeds the cows in the morning and evening and helps in the fields.

Real dairy products are the only products we use for cooking and snacking because Real dairy products contain vitamins and minerals that build teeth, bones, and muscles and help our bodies to function properly. Sharing a favorite family dairy recipe with other farm families is a pleasure for us, and we encourage farm families to use their Real dairy foods for their cooking and snacking.

HAM AND POTATOES IN SOUR CREAM SAUCE

2 cups sour cream
1 tablespoon melted butter
1 tablespoon flour
1 egg, lightly beaten
Pinch salt
Pinch nutmeg

Bread crumbs:

½ pound ham, thinly sliced
2 cups cooked potatoes, sliced
Shredded Swiss cheese
1 tablespoon butter

Blend together sour cream, 1 tablespoon melted butter and flour. Gradually stir in egg, keeping mixture smooth. Add salt and nutmeg. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Remove from heat at once and cool. Sprinkle a well-buttered 1-quart casserole dish with bread crumbs. Arrange ham in casserole. Put layer of potatoes on ham. Cover with sour cream mixture. Repeat until all ingredients are used. Sprinkle top with Swiss cheese, dot with butter. Bake at 300 degrees for 1 hour. Serves 4.

My husband and I are dairy farmers in southeast New York. We are milking about 40 cows. During this hectic season, I find the following recipe to be a great make ahead dish in addition to being a good way to use up leftover ham.

LEMON DESSERT

Bottom part:
½ cup butter
1 cup flour
½ cup nuts (chopped)

Mix together and put into a 9-inch by 13-inch pan. Bake 15-20 in a 350-degree oven. Cool.

Center part:
1 cup confectioners' sugar
1 cup whipped cream
8 ounces cream cheese

Mix together and spread on crust

Top part:
2 boxes lemon pudding
3 cups milk

Cook pudding with milk. Cool and spread over cream mixture.

I live on a 220-acre farm. We have a layer house and about 100 cows. We grow corn and alfalfa, and some beans.

IMPOSSIBLE TURKEY PIE

2 cups cut-up cooked chicken or turkey
4½-ounce jar sliced mushrooms, drained
½ cup sliced green onions with tops
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup shredded natural Swiss cheese
1½ cups milk
¼ cup buttermilk baking mix
3 eggs

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Grease 10-inch pie plate. Sprinkle turkey, mushrooms, onions, salt, and cheese in pie plate. Beat remaining ingredients until smooth in blender or hand beater. Pour into pie plate. Bake until golden brown and knife inserted halfway between center and edge comes out clean, 30 to 35 minutes. Let stand 5 minutes before cutting.

This is a very easy and good recipe to use leftover holiday turkey and many variations can be used. Ham for the turkey, cheddar cheese and lowfat milk, baking mix and egg substitutes can be used for those on restricted diets.

LASAGNA

1 pound ground beef
1 clove garlic, minced
½ teaspoon salt
One 32-ounce jar spaghetti sauce
One 6-ounce can tomato paste
One 16-ounce box lasagna
2 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups cottage cheese
½ cup Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons parsley flakes
Pepper, to taste
1 pound mozzarella cheese.

Cook lasagna according to package directions. Brown meat; add garlic and salt. Simmer 3-5 minutes. Stir in spaghetti sauce and tomato paste. Cook, stirring occasionally 10-15 minutes.

Cheese mixture:

Mix eggs, cottage cheese, Parmesan cheese, parsley flakes, and pepper.

In a 9-inch by 13-inch pan, layer lasagna noodles, meat mixture, cheese mixture, and shredded mozzarella cheese. Continue in that order until everything is used. Top with mozzarella cheese. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

I am sending a recipe for lasagna for the dairy drawing contest. My husband and I like lasagna a lot. I like to make it for family reunions during the summer and other outings. It's nice to make ahead and freeze.

VANILLA ICE CREAM

½ gallon of milk
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
4 eggs beaten
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons corn syrup
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 to 3 cups cream (add just before freezing)

Scald milk. Stir in sugar with (soaked) gelatin. Add vanilla and cream before freezing.

This is one of our favorite recipes. I like ice cream, especially homemade. My family also likes ice cream and probably the same with most of the people. It's a refreshing thing to eat on warm days. It seems homemade food wins (over) bought food. It doesn't have all the coloring and so forth. There are some, maybe most that have coloring and other artificial stuff in. But I like homemade food that has the right stuff in. It's better for you. There are seven in my family. I have two brothers that age 10, and 19, two sisters that age 6 and 17, and I am also 17. My sister and I are twins. It's a nice blessing to have a twin sister! We live on a hog farm. We farm 90 acres beside some woodland. I enjoy living on a farm. There's so many things to enjoy on the farm. I hope somebody will try my recipe and enjoy it and pass it on to others.

CORNED BEEF SANDWICHES

12 slices of rye bread (seedless)
8 slices of Swiss cheese
24 slices of deli corned beef
1 small can of of sauerkraut
Thousand Island dressing
Melted butter
Toothpicks
(Makes 4 servings)

Place 4 slices of rye bread on a cookie sheet. Spread each slice of bread with some Thousand Island dressing. On each slice of bread, place 3 slices of corned beef. Place one slice of Swiss cheese on top of the corned beef. Place 2 tablespoons of sauerkraut on top of each piece of cheese. Put another slice of bread on top of each sandwich. Spread bread again with Thousand Island dressing and repeat all of the above for a second time. Top with remaining breads. Brush both sides of sandwiches with melted butter and secure with toothpicks. Put in oven under broiler and broil until slightly brown. Flip sandwich over and broil again until brown.

We always enjoy eating this sandwich — especially on St. Patrick's Day. I would like to dedicate this recipe to my mother, who just passed away on May 7, 1993. She was a wonderful mother and we will miss her.

MINT BARS

1 cup butter
1½ cups granulated sugar
4 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
1½ cups flour
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup chopped walnuts, optional

Combine ingredients and bake in 9x13-inch pan at 350 degrees for 35 to 45 minutes. Cool and cream together:
2 cups confectioners' sugar
½ cup butter
2 tablespoons creme de menthe
Spread on cake. Top with:
6 tablespoons butter, melted
1 cup chocolate chips, melted
Spread over creme de menthe layer.

This is a family favorite. I have 4 sisters and 3 brothers ranging in ages 7 months to 16 years. We live on a dairy farm. With a growing family, we use many dairy products.

FAST FRUIT COBBLER

1 cup flour
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 cup milk
2 cups canned or fresh fruit
1 stick butter, melted

Combine flour, sugar, and baking powder in a 2-quart baking dish. Stir in milk and vanilla to make a thin batter. Place fruit over the batter and drizzle with melted butter. Bake 350 degrees 25-30 minutes, depending on depth of dish. Try cherries, raspberries — any fruit in season.

We're a dairy family with 70 cows, plenty of work for us all and good appetites to match! I look forward to looking over dairy month recipes. Wish I'd like to cook as good as I like to read all these good recipes!

APPLE ROLLUPS

2 cups flour
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
½ cup shortening
3 large, peeled apples
Syrup:
2 cups sugar
2 cups water

Mix sugar and water together until sugar desolves. Mix first six ingredients together. Roll out to ½ inch thick on floured surface. Spread with finely sliced apple. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Roll up like a jelly roll and cut 1inch slices. Place in a deep buttered 8-inch by 8-inch baking dish which contains the syrup. Dot top with butter. Bake 350 degrees until apples are cooked and rolls are brown.

We milk 40 cows on our dairy farm in Warren County. My husband also owns and operates a machine shop. Most all his work is for farmers making new parts or fixing old. Two full-time jobs keep us busy.

Apple rollups taste so much like apple dumplings, but they are much easier and faster to make.

CONNECTICUT SUPPER

2-3 cups leftover beef, cut in bite size pieces, or 1 pound ground beef, browned
4 medium potatoes, peeled and sliced
One 10½ ounce canned mushroom soup
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 cup grated American cheese or whatever you prefer
½ cup crushed wheat cereal
1 cup sour cream or milk

Layer beef in bottom of 9-inch by 13-inch pan. Place potatoes on top of this. Combine mushroom soup, milk, and seasoning. Pour over potatoes and meat. Sprinkle cheese next and top with wheat cereal. Bake at 350 degrees for 1½ hour.

I have four hungry brothers and this is one of their favorite dishes. Their names are David, 13; Samuel, 10; Jason, 8; and Matthew, 7. I also have two sisters: Anna, 2 and Martha, 4 mos. We live on a farm and milk 62 cows. Occasionally I help with the milking and I love working in the fields, but I don't get a chance very often with so many brothers. I also enjoy cooking and baking.

RITZ CRACKER DESSERT

60 Ritz crackers
½ cup melted butter
½ gallon vanilla ice cream
2 4-ounce packages instant vanilla pudding
1½ cups milk

Smash crackers, add butter to make crumbs and press into serving dish. Beat together ice cream and milk. Add dry pudding mix and beat until smooth. Pour ice cream mixture into serving dish and chill. Top with whipped cream or crumbs before serving.

Variation: Make cornstarch pudding and top with peanut butter crumbs made by combining peanut butter and confectioners' sugar until it crumbs. Or use any flavor you desire.

We are country folks with 120 cows. With farming and renting ground, we just keep busy.

FROSTY CHEESE CAKE

3 cups sugar frosted flakes
¼ cup butter, melted
8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
½ cup sugar
2 eggs
½ teaspoon vanilla flavoring
½ cup whipping cream

Measure frosted flakes and crush to 1½ cups. Combine with butter; reserve ½ cup for topping. Press remaining mixture firmly into bottom of ice cube tray. Chill.

Beat cream cheese and sugar until fluffy; add eggs and vanilla; beat well.

Whip cream until stiff; fold into cream mixture. Spread evenly in crumb-lined tray; top with reserve crumbs. Place in freezer until firm.

Cut into bars to serve. Top with fresh fruit, if desired.

Yields: 6 to 8 servings.

Note: graham cracker crumbs may be substituted for the cereal crumbs.

I'm a mother of three and a grandmother of eight. My hobbies include backyard bird watching, growing flowers, especially miniroses, keeping fish (I have a 5 and a 10-gallon aquarium) and raising houseplants.

FROZEN STRAWBERRY YOGURT PIE

Two 8-ounce containers vanilla yogurt.
3½ cups whipped topping, thawed
2 cups sweetened diced or finely chopped strawberries
9-inch graham cracker crumb crust.

Fold yogurt into whipped topping. Blend well. Fold in strawberries. Spoon into crust. Freeze until firm, four hours or overnight.

Remove from freezer 30 minutes before serving, but keep chilled in refrigerator. Garnish with additional strawberries if desired. Store leftover pie in freezer.

My husband and I are dairy farmers. We milk 40 cows. I also enjoy reading your paper, especially Home On the Range.

CHOCOLATE MOUSSE BROWNIES

½ cup butter
12-ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
2 cups granulated sugar
1¼ cup flour
2 teaspoons vanilla
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
3 large eggs
½ cup chopped pecans

Melt butter and chocolate chips. Stir in remaining ingredients except pecans and beat until smooth. Stir in pecans. Spread into a buttered 13x9-inch pan. Set aside.

Mousse topping:
¾ cup whipping cream
6 ounces semi-sweet chocolate chips
3 large eggs
1½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup granulated sugar
1 cup chopped pecans
¼ teaspoon salt

Melt chocolate chips with cream, cool slightly. Beat remaining ingredients, except pecans until foamy. Stir in chocolate mixture. Pour topping mixture over brownie. Sprinkle with pecans.

Bake at 350 degrees for 50 to 55 minutes. Let cool 2 hours before cutting.

SURPRISE CHERRY BARS

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup cream cheese
1½ cups brown sugar
4 eggs, beaten
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
21-ounce can cherry pie filling

Cream butter and cream cheese, gradually add sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Gradually add flour and baking powder, beating well. Stir in vanilla. Pour batter into a lightly greased 15x10-inch jelly roll pan, and spread evenly.

Lightly cut through batter with small knife to mark off 24 squares. Spoon about 1 tablespoon pie filling in center of each square. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes and test for doneness. If cake is browning too much, place strips of foil over edges to prevent over browning. Cake will puff up around cherries. Cut in squares. Good served with ice cream or whipped topping.

I altered this recipe from the "Southern State's Cooperative Farmer" dated March 1987. It is quite good.

Will and I celebrated our 50th anniversary with a party on April 17. Among the guests were our two children, three grandchildren, two great grandsons and one outstanding son-in-law. We are retired farmers and live in the house Will was born in 75 years ago. I served a rural mail route for many years and he was a private pilot with his plane based on the family farm here. I composed several pieces of poetry for the invitations and the program. When we married they were truck farming, but turned to a corn, wheat, and hay rotation of farming. He did custom harvesting as well. We have subscribed to the "Lancaster Farming" for many years and I occasionally answer a Cook's Question and always find "B section" quite interesting.

RICE PUDDING CAKE

6 eggs
2 cups cooked rice
1 cup sugar
2 cups milk
1 cup sour cream
1½ teaspoon cinnamon

Beat eggs until foamy. Add remaining ingredients. Bake in 9x13-inch pan at 350 degrees for 30 minutes or until firm. After baking, top with whipped cream.

ICE CREAM

3 quarts milk
3 packages gelatine
25 marshmallows
5 cups sugar
15 beaten eggs
3 tablespoons vanilla
1 quart cream OR 3 cans evaporated milk

Soak gelatine in a cup of water. Heat milk and marshmallows until scalding point. Pur over gelatine and add sugar. Let cool. Just before freezing, add eggs, cream, and vanilla. Freeze according to ice cream maker directions.

To make fruit ice cream, omit 2 tablespoons vanilla and add 1 pint fresh fruit of your choice.

EASY SKILLET DINNER

1 pound wieners
¼ cup butter
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup shredded cheddar cheese
16-ounces green string beans
2 cups diced cooked potatoes

Cut wieners in short thin strips. Saute in butter in large skillet. Remove hot dogs and stir flour and salt into remaining butter; add milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until thickened and smooth. Add hot dogs and remaining ingredients. Cover and cook over low heat for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally.

I am a collector of recipes and among my recipes are many that I have cut out of Lancaster Farming. I look forward each week to Section B.

Being a dairy farmer's wife, I especially like recipes using dairy products. This recipe is one that my family enjoys. It is very simple to make and you have a meal made in just one skillet. Along with the Easy Skillet Dinner, you need only serve a salad, roll and some microwave pudding for dessert for a complete meal.

CHIP DIP

3 tablespoons milk
3 tablespoons vinegar
3 egg yolks
3 tablespoons sugar

Cook milk, egg yolks, vinegar, and sugar on low to medium heat until thickened. Cool. After mixture is cooled, add:

1 small onion, chopped
24-ounces cream cheese, softened
4-ounces pimento cream cheese, softened

Store in refrigerator. Serve with chips, crackers or raw vegetables. Very good, but fattening. Makes a large amount so it's nice to serve at gatherings.

My name is Linda Horning and I am 15 years old. My parents are Leon and Edna Horning. I have 4 brothers and 1 sister, Keith, 17; Curvin, 13; Steven, 11; Dwayne, 5; and Marilyn, 2.

We live on a dairy farm and are milking 72 cows. We have a double 5 milking parlor. Our farm is 84 acres and we rent some more. We also have a pony, a dog, too many cats, and calves.

GOLDEN CHICKEN OR TURKEY SQUARES

8 slices white bread, cubed
4 cups diced cooked chicken or turkey
½ cup onion, chopped
½ cup celery, chopped
½ cup peppers, chopped
2 tablespoons parsley
4-ounce can mushrooms, drained, sliced
½ cup mayonnaise
1 can cream of chicken soup
2 cups milk
3 eggs
Salt and pepper, to taste
1 cup cheddar cheese, grated

Cut bread in cubes. Place half in 9x13-inch greased pan. Combine meat, vegetables, soup, mayonnaise. Mix well. Spoon over bread cubes. Top with remaining bread cubes. Beat eggs and milk. Pour over bread mixture. Cover and refrigerate overnight.

Bake at 350 degrees about 1 hour or until set. Sprinkle cheese over top. Return to oven until cheese is melted and bubbly. Remove from oven and let stand 10 minutes. Cut into squares and serve.

I am a homemaker, mother and work full time and love to cook. I do a lot of cooking at our church. Recently our women's group sponsored a Fashion Show Luncheon to benefit women in crisis. I served the above recipe as the main course along with fruit cup, a salad, and Eclair cake for dessert. This was a big hit. I had so many requests for the recipe that I'm having it published in our monthly church newsletter.

This recipe is simple to make for a buffet type meal. All the work is done ahead of time. Just pop it in the oven and bake. It is great warmed up in the microwave. Enjoy.

CARAMEL APPLE DIP

8-ounces cream cheese, softened
¾ cup packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon vanilla
½ cup chopped peanuts
6 apples, cut into wedges

In a small bowl, beat cream cheese, brown sugar, and vanilla until smooth. Spread mixture in small bowl, top with nuts. Serve with apple wedges.

Water Powers

Fred and Todd plan to run the entire operation themselves, at least for awhile.

"It's our dream to eventually create some jobs for this area, but with all of the government restrictions and workmen's compensation, we have to take it easy financially for awhile.

Todd was excited recently to hear from a man in Connecticut who is having a similar venture with a yarn mill. "I know it can be done," he says.

All of the wool will be bought from local sheep farmers, mostly through sheep shearer, Karl Kaufman. Sheep are not as plentiful in the area as they were in the early part of the century, but Kaufman still shears a hug number throughout the state.

Wool should be 3/8 to 1/2 blood, 2" to 4" staple, 50 to 58s. "We need a fine wool to make a quality product," Todd explains. "Merinas, for instance, have a good fine wool, almost too fine, but it can be blended."

They plan to pay premium over the wool pool price, but do request that all wool be skirted.

Todd or Fred can be contacted by writing to the Waterside Woolen Mill in Waterside, Pennsylvania.

Fred checks out a part as the wool begins to take the form of batting.

BERLIN (Somerset Co.) — The annual Somerset County FFA banquet was attended by 102 people at the community center.

Presiding over the ceremony were county FFA officers Mike Lepley, president, Meyersdale; Stephanie Singo, vice president, Rockwood; Marilee Appel filling in for Mary Williamson, secretary, Somerset; Jeremy Hay, treasurer, Brothersvalley; and reporter David Mahler, Somerset County Area Vocational Technical School (AVTS). Chaplain was Crystal Coddington, Somerset.

Matthew Coleman, Berlin-Brothersvalley won first place in the creed speaking contest. In the FFA junior public speaking contest, first place went to Jason Shuller, Somerset County AVTS. Second place went to Jeremy Schilling, Somerset County AVTS.

Conservation public speaking contest winners were David Mahler, first, Somerset County AVTS; Stephanie Singo, second, Rockwood and Jason Baughman, third, Berlin-Brothersvalley. Marty Stutzman, Bryan Sarver, and Chris Beach earned fourth, fifth, and sixth places.

In extemporaneous public speaking, Bobbi Darr, Somerset placed first; Eric Landis, Berlin-Brothersvalley, second; and Rodney Hoyman, Somerset County AVTS, third. Other winners were Harry Hoover, Nathan Poorbaugh, Marilee Appel, Rick Keller and Lonnie Coughenour.

Winners in the FFA Public Speaking Contest were Melissa Vought, Meyersdale, first; Mike Lepley, second, Meyersdale; and Jeremy Hay, third, Berlin-Brothersvalley. Other winners were Michael Griffith and Missy Place, who tied for fourth place.

The 1993 skills judging contest results in interview category were Eric Landis, Brothersvalley, first; Stephanie Singo, Rockwood and Mike Lepley, Meyersdale tied in second; Jason Tipton, Meyersdale, third; and Marilee Appel, fourth.

In Forestry, Richard Collins, Somerset County AVTS, was first. All winners were from Somerset County AVTS: Joe Swank, second; Ron Most, third; and Dave Creamer, Rodney Hoyman, and Rick Keller in fourth, fifth, and sixth places, respectively.

Livestock judging saw Heath Engle, Meyersdale, taking first place; Joe Tipton, Meyersdale, second; and Josh Glessner Somerset, third. Matt Foor, Chad Hyatt, and Adam Gauntz came in fourth, fifth, and sixth, respectively.

Team winners in judging small gas engines were first place, Ed Faidley and Steve Pugh, Somerset; second, Greg Cornell and Milton Snyder, Brothersvalley; and Bryan DiFebo and Nathan Poorbaugh, Meyersdale, third. Dennis May and Kenneth Roses were fourth.

Tractor driving contest winners were Gary St. Clair, Somerset, first; Marty Stutzman, Meyersdale, second, and Jonathan Smiley, Brothersvalley, third.

In wildlife, the winner was Dave Creamer, Somerset County AVTS, and Joe Swank, Somerset County AVTS, second. Eric Fritz, Somerset County AVTS, was third. Other winners from fourth through sixth place were Harry Hoover, Larry Laney, and Charles Johnson.

Dairy cattle judging winner was Jason Baughman from Brothersvalley. Darren Little, Brothersvalley, was second and Charles Johnson, Rockwood was third. From fourth place to sixth, winners were Valerie St. Clair, Debra Stahl, and Jeremy Bartels.

The Meyersdale FFA Chapter won both county FFA sports trophies. They were in basketball and volleyball.

Steve Landis, Berlin-Brothersvalley, was the winner in having the best-kept record book in the supervised occupational experimental program. From production credit Landis received $50 and a savings bond presented by Jeff Moser.

Cash prizes were presented by the conservation district to the conservation speaking winners named above. Presenter was Keith Largent.

The G. Floyd Dye Memorial rotating trophy for parliamentary procedure was given to the Somerset County AVTS.

A new memorial trophy was given this year in honor of the late Edward P. Shoemaker, who was the Vo-Ag teacher in Somerset. Shoemaker's untimely death was earlier this year. A poem of tribute was read by Doyle Paul, the Vo-Ag teacher from Berlin-Brothersvalley.

Paul said the Somerset County Vo-Ag teachers decided upon the rotating trophy in honor of Shoemaker. The award will be presented annually to the first place county demonstration team. The Somerset County AVTS is the first winner.

The county FFA officers each received a plaque.

First place winners in agricultural skills competition received their trophies through the Paul Wicks Insurance Company.

Steve Landis, Berlin-Brothersvalley, state FFA chaplain, gave an address to the guests.

The county FFA advisory committee members are Doyle Paul, John Hartman, Meyersdale; Douglas Baer, Mt. Davis; Timothy Vought, Rockwood; Cecil Lohr, Somerset; and James Harrold and Jane Schimpf, Somerset County AVTS.

850-Gallon Tank Available For Caddy

LINCOLN, Neb. — The Blue-Jet LandTracker, the multiple-use conservation tillage tool caddy, is available with a factory-fitted tank for fertilizer or chemical applications.

The 850-gallon elliptical tank comes complete with saddle for mounting directly to the LandTracker frame. The tank features a sump that ensures complete emptying during use.

The larger tank capacity cuts refilling time to give the operator more productivity in the field.

LandTracker features two threepoint hitches for attaching a variety of tool bar configurations. This implement caddy accommodates planters, drills, tillage tools, coulter bars, and even an optional tow hitch for pull-type implements to permit the operator to perform up to three operations in one pass.

For complete details on the Blue-Jet LandTracker with 850-gallon tank, contact Thurston Mfg. Co., Hwy. 87A, P.O. Box 218, Thurston, NE 68062, (402) 385-3042 or (800) 658-3127.

"This year we ran the Aer-Way over half the land where we had harvested corn silage We then spread between 4,000-5,000 gallons of liquid manure per acre and disked the seed bed to prepare for small grains We were absolutely amazed at the difference where we used the Aer-Way and one disking. My non-Aer-Wayed ground was disked 3 to 4 times and still wasn't as good I would recommend the Aer-Way to other farmers as it softens the ground and lets rain and manure penetrate instead of running off."
W.W Sandford III - Kenwood Farm, Orange, Virginia

"Earlier this spring, I used the Aer-Way Implement and Aer-Way chain harrow on my rolling pastureland. This was done to open up the ground to get water into the sloping grasslands. At the same time I pulled the Aer-Way chain harrow to scatter the cattle manure around. Even after the dry summer we had, I noticed that the Aer-Wayed ground held the moisture better and we got thicker and taller regrowth where we ran the machine."
Dr. Rex Wilhelm D.V.M., Stuart, Iowa

"I have better pastures since I started using the Aer-Way to aerate and renovate my pastures Using the Aer-Way has helped me get the nutrients where they are needed. I would not recommend fertilizing or liming without running the Aer-Way first."

Natural Enemies Control Fly Problems

UNIVERSITY PARK (Centre Co.) — Controlling flies in poultry houses need not require excessive use of chemical pesticides, according to an expert in Penn State's College of Agricultural Sciences.

"Using natural predators and parasites can cut down on fly problems," said Dr. Charles Pitts, professor of entomology. "But for these biocontrol methods to work, producers must use proper management practices and monitor fly populations."

Poultry producers must deal with a number of fowl parasites, structural pests, and filth flies in their facilities. Perhaps the most troublesome pest is the house fly.

House flies lay eggs in chicken maure and reproduce quickly in large numbers. They sometimes defecate on chicken eggs, and can carry salmonella and other harmful bacteria. In addition, house flies can migrate to nearby properties, causing a nuisance and potential health hazard for a poultry farm's neighbors.

Chemicals are available to control house flies. But Pitts says flies can develop resistance to many insecticides. "Pesticides also may kill beneficial insects, leave residues in meat and eggs, and harm the environment," he said. "The use of biocontrol strategies can reduce the need for and cost of pesticide applications."

Several native and commercially available predators and parasites attack and feed on house fly eggs and larvae.

The macrochelid mite is the most common mite in poultry manure. This mite, less than 1/16 of an inch in size, lives on the outermost layer of manure and feeds on house fly eggs and larvae. Each mite can eat up to 20 fly eggs per day.

"Macrochelids can substantially reduce house fly numbers," Pitts said, "but large mite populations are required for any appreciable impact. About three or four weeks of manure accumulation is needed for these predators to become established."

Another mite found in poultry manure is the uropodid mite. It feeds on fly larvae and lives deeper in the manure, complementing the egg-feeding activity of the macrochelid mite on the manure surface.

Certain types of hister beetle also help to contain house fly populations. Like the macrochelid mite, this eighth-inch long, black beetle feeds on fly eggs and larvae in the surface layers of poultry manure. Also, like the mites, hister beetles are not attracted to fresh manure. Accumulations of six weeks may be necessary for significant beetle populations to develop.

Tiny, stingless wasps that act as parasites can be included in a fly control program. Adult female wasps lay their eggs in fly pupae and the developing parasite larvae devour the pupae, emerging as adult parasites. Because these wasps are found only in small numbers on farms, some producers purchase them from commercial laboratories and release them in their poultry houses.

Pitts says to use these beneficial insects successfully, proper management is essential.

"Manure should be kept as dry as possible," Pitts said. "That discourages fly breeding and reduces the weight of the manure so it's easier to move when the manure pit is cleaned." Producers should avoid and correct leaks in watering systems and maximize air flow over manure to reduce moisture.

"Producers who plan to release commercial parasites need to consider which species to release and in what numbers," he said. "Parasite strains must be adapted to the local climate. Even then, many parasites offered by commercial insectaries have trouble becoming established, so periodic releases are necessary.

POULTRY'S EPA (ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY) IS YOU!

Dr. Michael Hulet
Associate Professor
Poultry Science

With the onset of summer, poultry producers should be keenly aware of the environment in which they grow poultry.

Poultry can tolerate a wide range of environmental conditions, but most of these conditions are not conducive to optimum growth or efficiency.

Poultry perform best when the environment around them minimizes stress and allows all nutrients to be used for growth and reproduction. If we evaluate summertime production and the natural stressors that inhibit optimum growth, we must be aware of certain management factors that will minimize environmental stress on our birds. Among these factors are temperature (ventilation) and water quality.

Ventilation

Young poultry will seek an environment where they feel comfortable. Early in their life, chicks and poults are susceptible to drafts and changes in temperature of one or two degrees Fahrenheit. Therefore, in the brooding stage, growers must be careful to observe the birds' behavior and keep the temperature constant.

If the chicks are huddled together, determine whether the behavior is caused by a low ambient temperature or if a drafty condition exists. Air direction is important for young birds — the inlet air should be directed toward the ceiling to temper and mix the air coming into the house. Conversely, air for older birds (greater than 4 weeks) is a means of cooling the birds during the summer.

Air rushing over the heads of the birds by directed vents or circulating fans within the house helps to moderate the environment at the level of the bird. Turkeys which have more featherless area on the head and neck and naked neck chickens are better able to utilize this method of heat dissipation in hot weather than are commercial broilers.

At very high temperatures, or if a hot spell starts quickly and doesn't allow a time for acclimation, mortality as well as tremendous decreases in growth can occur in poultry flocks. Under such situations, circulation of air within the house as well as the addition of moisture by fogging can help "cool" the birds and prevent losses and poor performance.

Ventilation equipment should also be checked and cleaned to allow for maximum air flow. During the winter, the combination of condensation and poultry dust coats belts, motors, wire mesh around fans and air vents, fan blades, fan levers, etc. and restricts air flow to the birds. "Spring cleaning" or "preventive maintenance" is, therefore, needed and shouldn't be delayed until the hot weather occurs.

Alarm systems should also be routinely checked to prevent a disaster that can occur when power outages eliminate mechanical ventilation, which can suffocate a flock. Other ventilation systems (automatic vents, thermostats, etc.) should also be maintained.

Water Quality

Fresh, clean, and cool water is the desire of most poultry producers. Between flocks of birds, water systems should be cleaned with a line cleaner and drained. Prior to placement of birds, the line should be flushed so that fresh, cool water is available for young chicks or poults.

Frequently, chlorine treatments are used to help decrease contamination of waterers. Routine cleaning and disinfection is also very important.

The waterers are ideal places for the replication of bacteria. Dr. Eric Gonder, a poultry veterinarian from Goldsboro Milling, Inc., has reported that water in a trough with nutrients from feed residue held at 68-70 degrees Fahrenheit is an ideal incubator for bacteria. He proposed that if two bacteria were added to a feed-contaminated water trough environment, after 10 hours you would have the bacterial equivalent of raw sewage. Therefore, consistent cleaning of water troughs followed by the use of an effective disinfectant can help decrease the amount of coliform bacteria consumed by the flock.

This fact also helps explain the decrease in condemnations and the improvements in livability enjoyed by broiler growers that have switched to nipple waterer systems. Nipple waterers have no common water bath for growth and accumulation of bacteria, not to mention the decrease in water spillage and drier litter that occurs as a result of using these drinkers. Unfortunately, no nipple waterers have yet been developed to adequately supply the water demands of finishing turkeys.

Water level (trough, bell) or water pressure (nipple) need to be adjusted during high ambient temperatures to allow for increased water consumption by the flock. When adequate water volume is not supplied, feed consumption is decreased and growth is lowered.

Your management is the environmental protection agency (EPA) for your flocks. By protecting against unhealthy environments, you will produce healthier and more productive birds.

Fresh air and water are basic to good production practices. Adopt good management skills to reduce environmental stressors for your flocks.

Dryer Line Includes 63 Models

ASSUMPTION, Ill. — Airstream Dryer division of Grain Systems, Inc. (GSI) has introduced an innovative, more efficient line of dryers.

This new line includes 63 models: 55 continuous flow/staged automatic units and seven batch units. Each dryer's quality construction and design provides 200-4,000 BPH capacity, electronic control monitoring systems, low noise, high efficiency vane axial fans, improved metering system (upper meter role angle is steeper, feeding more evenly and allowing better cleaning), large plenum clean-out door, easy access to discharge system, and warranty (all Airstream dryers carry a warranty that will meet or exceed any competitor's).

Dairy Learning Attraction At Zoo

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — In a ceremony held recently at the Kansas City Zoo, Terry Blanks, president of Alfa Laval Agri, announced a major donation of a "dairy learning attraction" to the zoo.

The donation was accepted by Dr. Mark Wourms, director of the Kansas Citiy Zoo, who tried his hand at millking a real cow to underscore the importance of this donation.

Alfa Laval Agri, headquartered in Kansas City, has donated the dairy learning attraction as part of a planned domesticated animals area for zoo visitors to see and use. The donation consists of a lifelike mechanical cow named Della (named for Alfa Laval Agri's "De Laval" products) made of fiberglass, and a working milking machine. Della is see-through on one side where milk production can be viewed. Visitors to the zoo can actually attach modern Alfa Laval Agri milking equipment to her themselves.

"We are thrilled to make this donation to the Kansas City Zoo," said Blanks. "We feel the importance of the dairy industry will be underscored with this donation. We would like for children to fully understand the process behind the production of a food that is so essential to their lives . . . in doing so we build loyal consumers of dairy products for today and tomorrow."

"We are pleased to have such a unique addition to the Zoo," said Wourms. "Della will be a highlight in our domesticated animals attraction. Donations such as this are an essential part of the future Kansas City Zoo."

The donation was announced during Alfa Laval Agri's 10th National Dealer Convention held recently.

PIG SAVER "DUTCH CRATE"

Dutch Farrowing Crate is another product developed through testing in our research farms. The goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay ons, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity fliprail that forces sows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.

CONFINEMENT STALL

Horizontal Confinement Stall was developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (available in 21"-24" O.C. x86").

Unverferth's new rear-folding, patented corner auger grain carts provide 100 percent unloading visibility, making the cart easier to maneuver and unload. The unique auger position also permits users to view into the tank without climbing over the auger.

Grain Carts Have 710-, 525-Bushel Capacities

KALIDA, Ohio — Unload on-the-go with the new Unverferth models 7000 and 5000 grain carts with capacities of 710 and 525 bushels, respectively.

Unverferth's new rear-folding, patented corner auger grain carts provide 100 percent unloading visibility, making the cart easier to maneuver and unload. The unique auger position also permits users to view into the tank without climbing over the auger.

With submerged auger intake and heavy duty gearbox, these carts unload quickly and completely, at up to 250 bushels per minute. Combining this heavy duty gearbox with a computer balanced auger and spring loaded top bearing, this machine unloads consistently with minimal maintenance.

Standard features of this new grain cart include fully primed and painted with producer's choice of tractor green or red, Lexan-sealed seams for longer box life, auger-mounted light for nighttime unloading, flashing amber lights for safer road travel, and front and rear viewing windows for checking volume of grain.

Unverferth grain carts also feature hydraulic flow control with position indicator, fully charged hydraulic hoses and ISO couplers, auger position indicator, and a variety of wheel and tire options.

Optional scale package can be ordered with the cart or as an easy retrofit for checking yields on the go.

For further information, contact Unverferth Manufacturing Co., Inc., P.O. Box 357, Kalida, OH 45853, (800) 322-6301 or (419) 532-3121.

Zeneca Ag Products, DuPont, and Scienco Products have signed an agreement to jointly develop SmartBox, a new system for packaging, handling, and applying granular soil insecticides. Shown with a SmartBox prototype unit are, left to right, Jim Rodebush, Zeneca technical service representative from Iowa; Paul Nolte, engineering manager, Scienco Products; Joe Gerling, senior research engineer, DuPont Application Technology Group; and John Thieme, Zeneca technical service representative from Illinois. A limited number of SmartBox systems will be field-tested by universities and growers in 1993.

Zeneca, Dupont, Scienco Sign Agreement

WILMINGTON, Del. — Zeneca Ag Products (the new name for ICI Agricultural Products), DuPont Company, and Scienco Products (part of Ingersoll-Dresser Pump Company) have signed an agreement to jointly develop SmartBox, a new system for packaging, handling, and applying granular soil insecticides.

"By pooling resources and working together on the SmartBox unit, we anticipate being able to have the system commercially available by 1995," said Tom Hashman, technical business manager at Zeneca.

"SmartBox is a very promising system," said Joe Gerling, senior research engineer with DuPont's Application Technology Group. "It not only eliminates a farmer's exposure to insecticide granules, but promises to greatly improve application rate control as well."

SmartBox is a closed-system package made of heavy-duty plastic that mounts on a corn planter in place of the planter's insecticide hoppers. It comes equipped with an electronically controlled metering system, and is returnable and refillable.

"The SmartBox would replace insecticide bags, insecticide boxes on planters, and existing metering systems," said Paul Nolte, engineering manager with Scienco Products. "One key advantage is that the metering system is tied into a radar that measures ground speed. The application rate is consistent even if the tractor speeds up or slows down."

Hashman said that precise rate control with the SmartBox could allow the use of insecticides formulated for lower use rates.

"This would mean less product to handle and more acres covered by each box of insecticide," he said. "It's possible that a 12-row planter, using a low-rate formulation of Force soil insecticide, could cover 500 to 1,000 acres of corn on one set of SmartBox containers."

Zeneca markets Force and Dyfonate II soil insecticides. The company is providing Force in SmartBox systems to universities and growers for field trials in 1993.

DuPont is developing Fortress soil insecticide (EPA registration pending) for future commercialization.

The companies plan large-scale field testing of SmartBox in 1994, followed by commercial introduction for the 1995 season.

Unit Transfers Feed

LITITZ (Lancaster Co.) — A custom handling unit for free-flowing grain and feed is in service here at Eastern Mobile Mills.

With a capacity of 3,000 bushels per hour, the unit transfers materials to and from trucks, railroad cars, bins, and pits. It was used recently on several large spills. For more information, contact EMM Sales and Service, Lititz, (717) 626-4762.

Hoffman Seeds Sponsors Wheat Field Day

LANDISVILLE (Lancaster Co.) — Hoffman Seeds, Inc. recently sponsored a wheat field day at the Jim Kettering Farm in Manheim. Cosponsors were Ciba Plant Protection and Gustafson, Inc. which markets Baytan seed treatment.

The test plots consisted of thirty wheat varieties, including public and competitive brands. Varieties were planted at varying populations and treated with varying seed treatments.

Seventy growers from the eastern Pennsylvania area attended the annual event. They were able to view lodging, powdery mildew, rust, leaf spot, and other diseases common to wheat. Representatives from the sponsor companies were on hand to answer questions.

Plots will eventually be rated on maturity, yield, standability, plant height, head length, test weight, and disease resistance. Treatment comparisons will also be evaluated.

Hoffman evaluates 20-30 wheat varieties each year. The testing program for 1993 includes replicated yield trials from Virginia through Pennsylvania, on-farm strip trials from Virginia through New York, and all university trials in the east.

Mulch Mowing Gives Lawn Benefits

BOB TRACINSKI
Consumer Information
John Deere

RALEIGH, N.C. — What's better for a lawn? To recycle grass clippings with a specially-designed mulching mower? Or to use a regular side-discharge mower and simply follow the one-third rule?

It used to be that experts said any mower is a mulching mower if you cut the lawn often enough to remove only one-third of the grass blade in any one mowing. But times have changed. Recent university research by Texas A&M has shown that lawns actually benefit from being mowed by a mulching mower. It's called TLC.

In this case, TLC stands for thin layer composting. Think of the grass clippings forming a thin compost layer across the lawn.

The university study showed that longer clippings left by an old side-discharge mower without special mulching attachments actually creates a condition that encourages the development of fungus diseases. And most diseases that attack a lawn are caused by one kind of fungus or another.

Southern Maryland Regional Farmer's Market Opens

CHELTENHAM, Md. — The Southern Maryland Regional Farmer's Market has opened its' wholesale auction market for the 1993 season. The first sale was held Friday, June 4.

Produce auctions are scheduled for every Friday in June at 11 a.m. As the supply of fresh, local produce increases, additional sales will be added on Mondays and Wednesdays at 11 a.m. and Thursdays at 7 p.m. Thursday night sales were something new tried by the market last season and proved to be a big success with both buyers and growers.

One of the improvements in the market this season is a rebate being offered to sellers. Sellers who sell more than $5,000 worth of produce during the season will receive a 1 percent rebate on the amount sold over $5,000. A 2-percent rebate will be given on the amount sold over $7,500. Rebates will be mailed to sellers after the auction market closes for the season and by December 1, 1993.

According to market manager Regina Prunty, the rebate is being offered as an incentive for growers to sell more of their produce through the auction.

"If the market is to continue to grow, we must sell more volume of quality produce," said Prunty.

Commission rates for selling in the auction are 12 percent for out-of-state growers and 10 percent for Maryland growers.

A "no sale" fee is still in effect for this year. Sellers will be charged $2 per lot of produce for rejecting a final bid. "The 'no sale' fee is charged because of the time required to auction the produce," said Prunty.

The market will strictly enforce more than ever its policy against topping or "nesting" as referred to by tobacco growers. Topping is not going to be tolerated according to Prunty. "Growers who top only end up hurting themselves and the market in the long run by driving buyers away," she said.

Another improvement this season is expansion of the calling area for the market's 1-800-533-FARM phone line. Previously the line could only be called from within Maryland. It can now be called from states outside of Maryland. The change was made as a service to out-of-state participants.

One of the many advantages the market offers sellers is weekly payments. Sellers can pick up their checks on Wednesday of the following week.

Buyers are required to pay a $10 season buyer registration fee. The market offers buyers a quick and efficient checkout procedure. Buyers must have prior approval by the market manager to write checks for their purchases.

In 1992 the wholesale market had about 200 buyers and 200 sellers with $335,000 in gross sales. Goals for this year are to have at least 250 buyers and 250 sellers with $500,000 in gross sales. "We are hoping for our best season ever," said Prunty.

The retail market of the Southern Maryland Regional Farmer's Market is set to open on June 26. Seasonal rates are $250 for Maryland growers and $300 for out-of-state growers. Daily rental rates are $15 for Maryland growers and $20 for out-of-state growers. Retail hours for this year are 1 p.m.-6 p.m. on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons and 9 a.m.-3 p.m. on Saturdays. Stallos are still available for the market.

For more information about the wholesale auction or retail market, call (800) 533-FARM or (301) 372-1066.

BREWEX - For Use In Dairy Feeds

BREWEX is used extensively in complete dairy formulations to contribute utilizable energy. It is a price/performance value when used in dry feeds, liquid feeds and on-farm mixes.

MIX WITH DRY FEEDS: BREWEX is found in commercial pelleted rations for dairy, hogs and poultry as an energy source to replace corn. BREWEX replaces corn on a pound for pound dry basis and provides for improved pellet durability, reduced mineral segregation, dust control and improved palatability in dairy rations.

ON-FARM MIXING

A commercial Jersey dairy farm, having over ten years of experience in feeding BREWEX to partially replace corn finds that

- BREWEX replaced 5% to 10% corn/day
- BREWEX improves butterfat about 0.1%
- BREWEX mixed with forage reduces mortality due to displaced abomasum
- BREWEX helps cattle to stay on feeds

HIGH TENSILE FENCE...THE FARMER'S BEST INVESTMENT

Testimonial ... satisfied ...

The Beaver Fence Systems are tops! We installed 1 mile of their fence on our farm on Feb. 3, 1993, full size post, 3-1/2 feet deep, excellent braces. We used 5 strand (2 elec.) high tensil, all in place in just 8-1/2 hours! The fence is as straight as an arrow-excellent equipment-very efficient work!

"I am a hard man to convince, but after I saw how Beaver built the fence, I'm ready to put my digging iron away," says David W. Brubaker of Honey Grove Acres, RD1, Box 629 Honey Grove, PA 17035

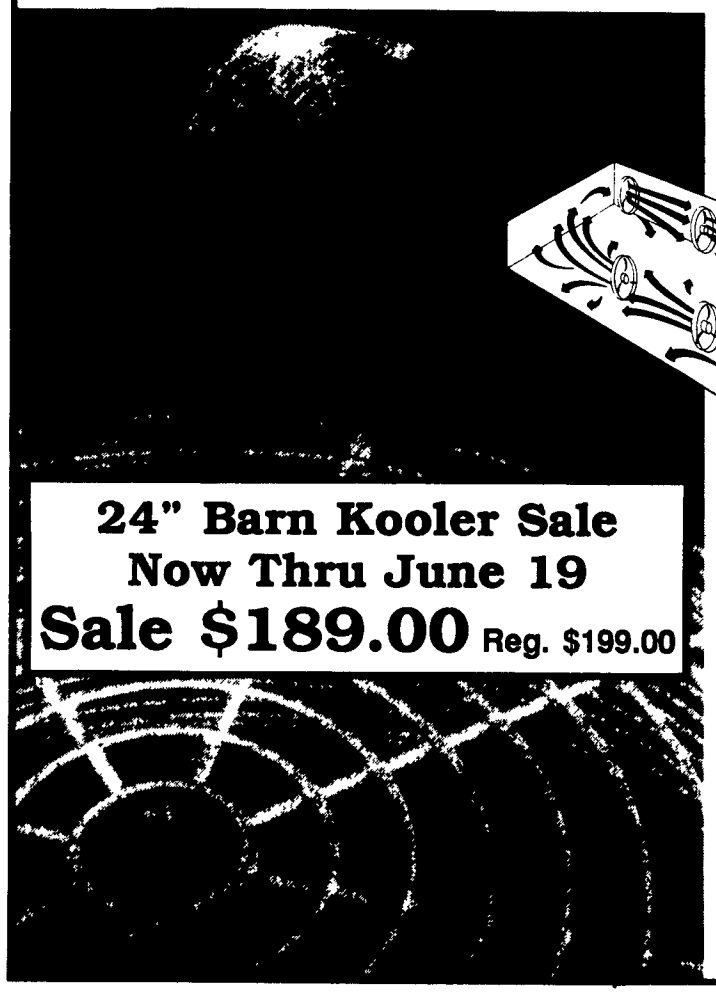
There's nothing like a heated discussion about cooling systems.



Talk about a sound investment... The Schaefer Barn Kooler System

With a Barn Kooler® System, you'll receive YEAR-ROUND benefits for you and your livestock
More than just a fan, the Barn Kooler s patented design provides twice as much air flow as any fan on the market The Barn Kooler® System incorporates a series of fans and controls into an integrated system that is used for both high velocity air circulation for cooling during the Summer and gentle, draft-free air movement during the Winter months By utilizing thermostatically controlled speed modulators, the speed of the circulating air is constantly adjusted to the temperature
The idea is so simple, you might wonder why didn't we think of it before? We did! We've been installing the Schaefer Barn Kooler® System in barns like yours for over 25 years!
BARN KOOLER® it's the dairy and hog farmers' choice Any other system is a lot of hot air!

for... Better yields • Better quality • Better profits

Better get... TRISERT®

liquid foliar fertilizer with patented triazone slow-release nitrogen is the better foliar. Better because it can increase your yields; it is non-burning even at concentrated rates; it won't volatize or crystallize; it can be used with lower volumes of water because of its extremely low phytotoxicity. Trisert is highly compatible with crop protection chemicals and other nutrient and, it can be applied by ground or air. TRISERT... better in every way.

EBY Quality Specs Don't Cost - They Pay!

HERE'S WHY YOU CAN'T AFFORD ANYTHING LESS.

Eby livestock gooseneck trailers make top quality affordable. Both Wrangler and Ruff Neck models feature premium quality components and all-aluminum construction for greater payload efficiency, minimum maintenance and highest resale value.

The economical Wrangler series offers rugged design in lengths from 12' to 24', with a choice of 4 heights. The work horse Ruff Neck series is available in lengths from 20' to 32' and three standard widths, with a full range of custom options (including stainless steel front end).

These trailers are engineered for efficient operation and dependable service. So whatever your agri-transportation needs, Eby equipment satisfies the demands of your business.

PROVEN SUCCESS IN SELLING FARMS, LAND & COUNTRY ESTATES

new pennsylvania realty, inc.

OVER 20 YEARS EXPERIENCE IN PENNSYLVANIA FARM SALES

NEW PENNSYLVANIA REALTY has been selling farms and country properties since 1974 and some of our agents have over 22 years experience. We primarily service Eastern Pennsylvania. We sell all types of farms including dairy farms, beef farms, horse farms, Christmas tree farms, gentleman farms and country estates, as well as land for development.

AGRICULTURAL EXPERIENCE

We at New Pennsylvania not only have many years of Real Estate experience, but everyone at New Pennsylvania has agricultural experience and we all own farms. We feel this experience is a must in evaluating farm properties as well as relating to sellers and buyers. We also keep informed as to the best methods of financing.

PROFESSIONALISM * EXPERIENCE * PERFORMANCE

We work hard to get the job done. We provide buyers with detailed information on a property to enable them to make informed decisions and achieve the best possible price for the seller. We prepare professional brochures and take aerial photographs when warranted. This professional approach has enabled us to sell farms to all types of buyers from Agri-Business to Stock Brokers from New York City.

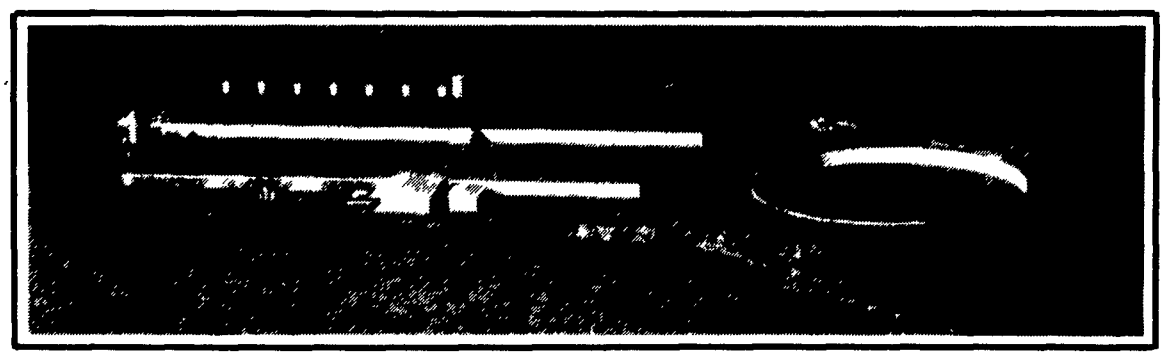
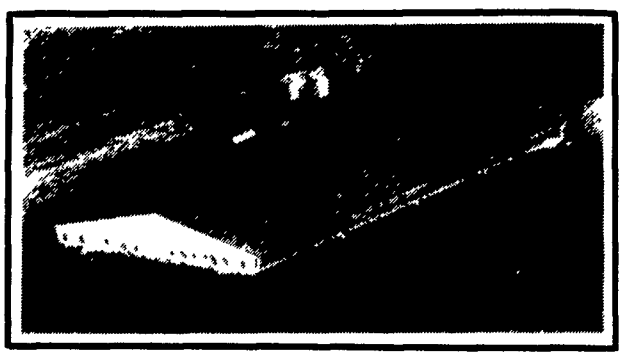
TRI-COUNTY CONFINEMENT SYSTEMS, INC.

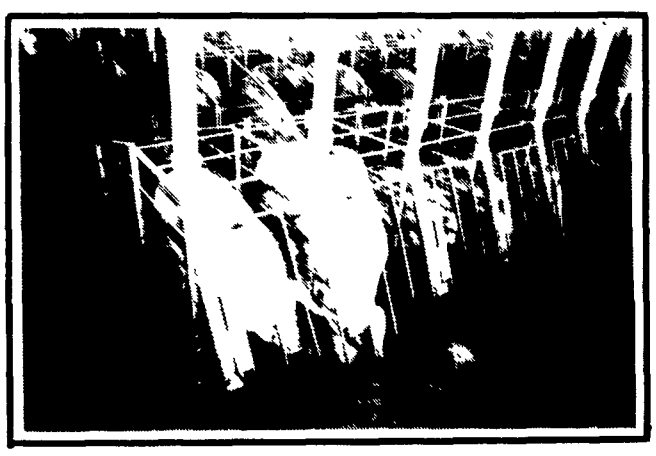
Total Swine Confinement Systems Center



Recently Completed 1200 Sow Feeder Pig Unit
Tunnel Ventilated Gestation (4) Farrowing Rooms (7) Nursery Rooms



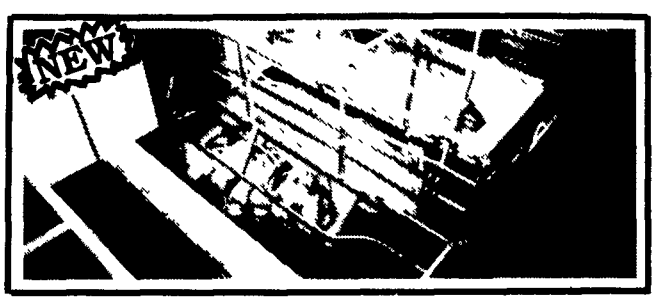
3000 Head "Double Wide"
Deep Pit Finishing Building



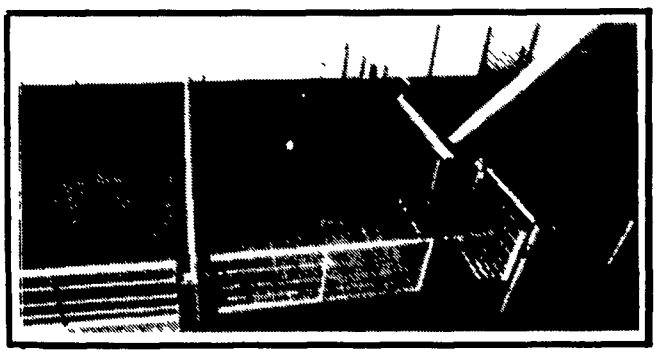
CONFINEMENT STALL

Developed recently in our R&D farm. Our goals were convenience, safety and durability. The low back and flat top rails are easy to reach over with no sharp edges. Stainless steel rear legs and front feet along with solid steel horizontal rods through punched uprights provide the strongest, most durable stall ever produced by Tri-County (21"-24" O.C. x 86").

PIG SAVER "DUTCH CRATE"



Developed through testing in our research farms. the goal was to develop a crate that nearly eliminates crushing, due to lay ons, unmatched durability and be easy to work around. All this has been achieved by a unique gravity flipral that forces sows to lie down slowly and using stainless steel for rear doors and legs, proven horizontal and solid steel rod construction. All this at a reasonable cost. Crate also can be installed on an angle.



NURSERY PENNING

Nursery penning has been improved by the use of an optional solid stainless steel panel on the front gates which keeps walkways clean. Stainless steel verticals on penning eliminates corrosion where penning attaches to the floor. Stainless steel drinker pipes & mounting brackets also increase durability.

FINISHING PENNING

Optional stainless steel verticals and fasteners offer improved durability over other similar types of penning. Loop and flapper latch arrangement eliminates the use of drop pins. Stainless steel fence line feeders provide excellent durability and a minimum of waste.

NEED MORE FARM INCOME? Feeder Pig & Finishing Units Have Proven To Be An Excellent Source Of Full Or Part-Time Income For Many Successful Producers. Tri-County Can Assist You With Cash Flows - Financing - Nutrient Management- Building Permits

CONCRETE MANURE TANKS

Environmental safety is an increasingly important part of livestock production. Concrete storage tanks offer maximum safety against ground water contamination and unmatched durability. Tri-County can build waste storage tanks for the small or large operations engineered for ASCS approval.

Save 30% On Your Electric Bill with our 175 Watt Heat Bulb

Long Lasting 5,000 Hours

These 175 watt heat lamp bulbs put out as much heat as a 250 watt bulg but use 30% less electricity at $.10 per K.W H. that's $37.50 over the life of the lamp. Even better, if you run 40 lamps that's a savings of $1,500.00.

Bulbs are Heavy Duty Industrial type with high brass base and are resistant to urine and water splash damage, so you'll save even more on those costly breakage problems.

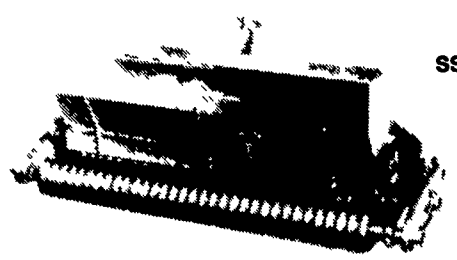
Brillion
MEETS THE CHALLENGE

For Built In Strength Where It Counts — Buy Brillion

Brillion LANDSCAPE SEEDERS

crush clods, deposit and cover the seeds in one operation.



SSLP 642

Seeds are precisely deposited in the top ¼" of a firmed clod-free seedbed. THis labor-saving 5'4" model is extremely maneuverable for working close to buildings and fences. Stop in and ask about Brillion's 5'4" Landscape Seeder or the new 8' Model.

Brillion TURF-MAKER

Is the ideal seeder for professional landscapers, turf and sod raisers.

SLP 8 or 10

Crush clods, deposit and cover the seeds in one operation. Get thick, even stands of grass, consistently, with savings of up to 50%. Stop in and ask about Brillion's 10' Turf-Maker. (Also available as pull-type)

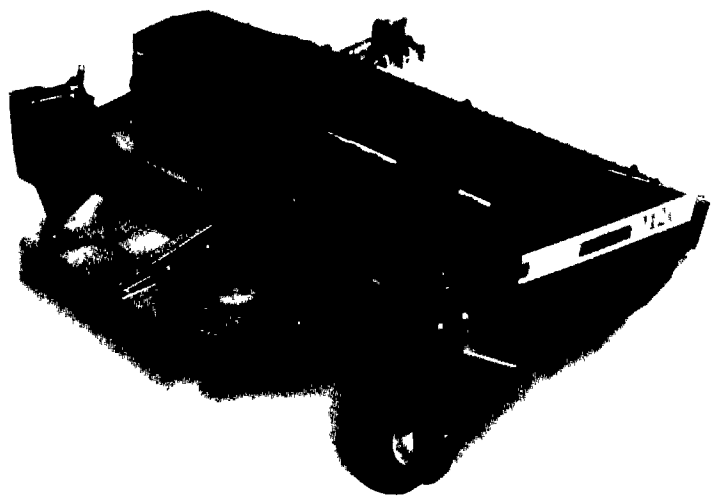
THE CUT AND DRY STORY ON THE HESSTON 1120.



It cuts fast It dries quickly Making the Hesston 1120 one Mower Conditioner we're definitely proud of

See, we built it rugged enough to endure the toughest working conditions a sickle-type mower could handle The 1120's Half Swaybar Sickle Drive runs at a fast 1,700 spm It'll cut practically all types of crops in its 9'3" path—and cut time and maintenance, too

Whether your crops are stemmy or leafy, the 1120's full-length Conditioner Rolls adjust for gentle or aggressive conditioning So your hay dries faster—and bales more consistently And of course, it's all backed by AGCO's Warranty Program

See D.W. OGG and ask about our flexible financing plans on the 1120, or on the wide selection of equipment for all your hay and foarge needs. It's the best—cut and dry.

5000 Series Spirit Tractors

It takes a lot more than green paint to make a tractor a John Deere. The 40-, 50-, and 60-hp SPIRIT models are good examples. In fact, many of the features that make our higher-horsepower row crop tractors so productive and reliable can be found in these three models.

Plus, a long list of standard features make them a great value. Like independent PTO, hydrostatic power steering, hydraulic wet-disk brakes, and a lot more.

JD 6000 SERIES TRACTORS - See What Has The Competition So Worried!

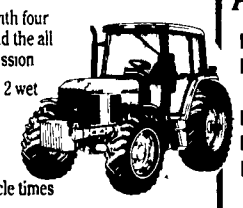
- All new, optional 16-speed PowrQuad™ transmission with four powershiftable speeds in four synchronized ranges, and the all new fully-synchronized 12 speed SyncroPlus™ transmission
- Both transmissions feature the all new PermaClutch™ 2 wet clutch for unmatched reliability, no adjustments
- The all new ComfortGard™ cab with 40 percent more room better visibility two-door entry/exit
- All-new hydraulics give you greater capacity, faster cycle times



IN STOCK: JD 6200, 66 HP w/Comfort Gard Cab

JD 7000 SERIES TRACTORS - The Hottest New Tractor Merging Power Technology & Experience!

- All-new 40 percent more interior space.
- All-new 55.3 square feet of tinted glass (29 percent more).
- All-new air-cushioned seat with John Deere 4-way attenuation.
- All-new air quality system with more uniform circulation.
- All-new tractor instrumentation and command column.

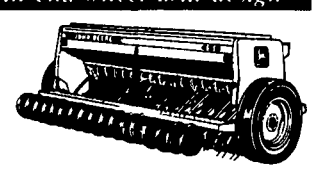
450 SERIES END-WHEEL DRILLS

Enhanced performance and durability make these drills the benchmark in end-wheel drill design

Uncompromising performance and durability, make the 450 Drill one of today's most popular seeding tools.

Down-pressure is a key factor in obtaining more penetration for consistent seed depth with end-wheel drills. And the 450 Drill provides superior down-pressure—up to 124 pounds per opener—to help you slice through residue and tough soils for more accurate seeding depth.

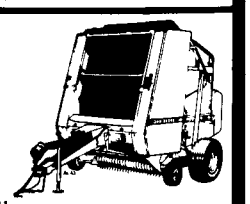


IN STOCK:
- JD 450 17x7.5 10' w/Folding Tongue, Depth Gauging Press Wheels & Grass Seed
SALE $6,990

- JD 450 20x7.5 12' w/Folding Tongue & Depth Gauging Press Wheels
SALE $7,590

(SALE ENDS JUNE 30)

WHY ARE THESE THE FASTEST MOVING BALERS AROUND?



It's simple. You get uniform bale density throughout the bale — density you need for solid, stand-up-tall bales. Bales that hold their shape and, therefore, perserve hay quality.

If your bales stay round, they shed water better. And since John Deere bales won't flatten or "slouch", there is less bale surface touching the ground to wick-up moisture. Dramatically reducing spoilage.

A TURN FOR THE BETTER.

Kuhn's Gyrorake turns haymaking upside down with the 3-in-1 rake, windrow inverter and tedder.
Windrow inversion is an essential process that not only allows hay to dry faster, but also decreases leaf loss as it increases nutrient levels. Get the job done fast with a Kuhn Gyrorake. It lets you match rotor and ground speeds to your crop conditions for gentle, efficient inverting.

But when it comes to Kuhn Gyrorakes, windrow inversion is just part of the story. The GA series offers gentle, high speed raking without roping. Side delivery enables you to double windrow. And if needed, the Gyrorake also is an effective tedder for fluffing and drying hay.

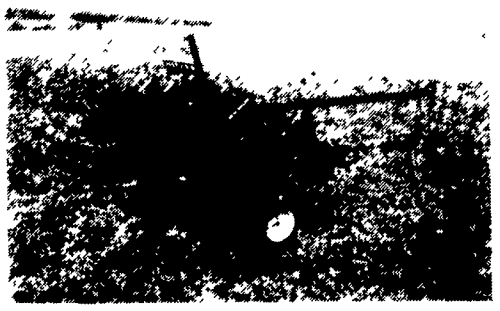
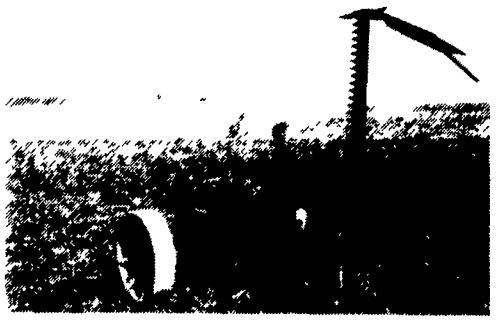
The I & J Cultivator

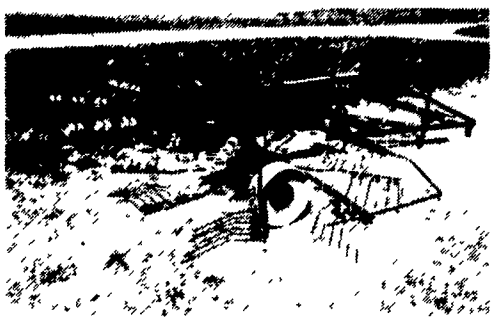


CULTIVATORS: 3 point or horse drawn available in 1-2-3- or 4 rows can be used as a field cultivator with a few attachments. Great for vegetables. We can custom build. Options: rolling shields, disc hillers, liquid side dressers, row tracking system.

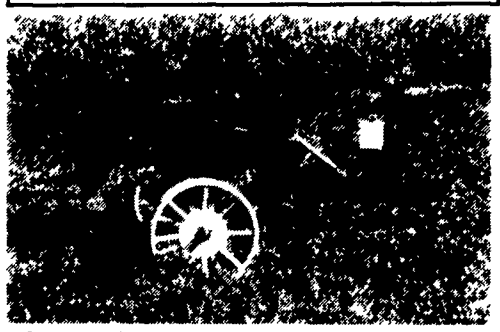


MOWERS: 3 point or trailing features: guards & blade, move back and forth cuts like a scissors, virtually no plugging.

2% DISCOUNT 10 DAYS OFF ALL CULTIVATORS



RAKES: available in ground drive or PTO steel wheels or rubber tires Features: forms a very fluffy windrow, can also be used as a windrow inverter. Does not rope hay. A real leaf saver.



DEEP TILL SLITTER: Available in 1 or 2 shanks, optional hydraulics.

Corn binders: get your orders in by June 1.

We Also Carry Flex Tine Harrows

REMEMBER THE (3) LAWS OF HOOBER-RECONDITIONED AXIAL-FLOW COMBINES:

LAW #1- (14) Years Old is not equal to (≠) WORN OUT...

Because of the simple design of the CASE IH Axial Flow Combines, they can be reconditioned by HOOBER'S expert combine mechanics to like-new condition, so they provide 2nd and 3rd owners years of satisfactory and profitable operation.

LAW #2- (3,500) HOURS PLUS (+) HOOBER RECONDITIONING Equals (=) YEARS OF DEPENDABLE SERVICE...

(3,500) Hours on a conventional combine usually means they'll be too much trouble to be dependable. Axial-Flow combines with (3,500) hours, reconditioned by HOOBER'S, have proven to run for years when purchased by farmers in PA, MD, DE and NJ.

LAW #3- A CASE IH AXIAL-FLOW COMBINE SERVICED BY EXPERT HOOBER COMBINE MECHANICS EQUALS (=) LITTLE OR NO DOWNTIME DURING HARVEST...

When Hoober's expert combine mechanics service and repair AXIAL-FLOW combines in the off-season, they run dependably through the season.

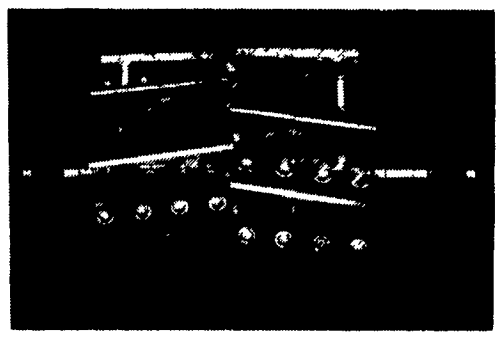
THE CLAAS HARVESTER

MAXIMUM FEED QUALITY

To ensure maximum feed quality from maize it is vital to crack every kernel. Digestion of uncracked maize falls as the maize becomes drier. Independent trials have shown the Claas corn cracker to be close to 100% effective From the cylinder the corn passes through the two large diameter rollers with saw tooth profiles The rollers run at different speeds to intensify the grinding effect and open up each kernel It is a fairly tough process so the latest generation of corn crackers take account of the wear involved on the rollers. Nothing can reduce the wear but Claas have cut the cost of repair by making the outer sleeve replaceable. The shaft, drive pulley and bearings can all be reused which cuts down repair bills dramatically. Adjusting the distance between the two rollers is accomplished by turning two handles, easily accessible behind the cab. In no time at all the degree of cracking can be matched to the ripeness of the crop

Call Today For The Custom Harvester In Your Area Equipped With A Claas Harvester And Roller Mill



RELIABILITY

The CLAAS Cutterbox is a unique balanced design using 2 knives in a V configuration. This forces the cutting action toward the center instead of the outside. This is the secret of their horsepower requirement and good quality of cut.

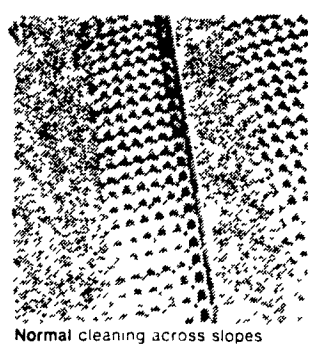
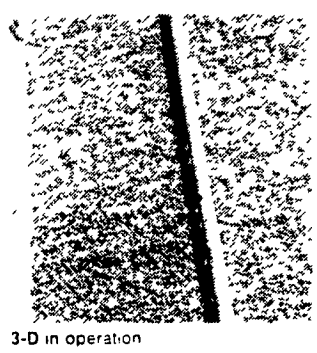
COMBINING SLOPES — THE MF 3-D CLEANING SYSTEM

MASSEY FERGUSON



Normal cleaning across slopes



3-D in operation

With the MF 3-D cleaning system, the crop is distributed evenly across the full width of the sieves, performance remains stable and output maintained.

The 3-D cleaning system provides dynamic slope compensation which means that the upper sieve moves sideways against the slope of the hill. The degree and direction of these movements depend on the inclination of the slope. Quick reaction and of course equal performance in any direction on slopes of up to 20%.

With the MF 3-D system you can operate at the same speed on slopes as on flat land. Daily performance can be maintained.

Get Comforting Heat and Efficiency.

The Mahoning Outdoor Multi-Fuel Furnaces provide thermostat controlled heat by economically burning wood, coal or fuel oil. The furnace is placed 25-100 feet outside the structure to be heated, connections between the furnace and building are buried underground. Wood or coal is the primary burning fuel lasting 8-12 hours in the furnace For convenient, automatic firing the separate oil burner combustion chamber can provide heat until wood or coal burning is desired. Both Wood/Coal & the Fuel Oil burners are enclosed to heat the same water tank The purpose of the firebox is to heat the water-filled tank surrounding the outside unit, this heated water is then circulated through underground pipes into your home A heating coil is installed inside your existing heat system. The thermostat controls the blower which picks the heat off the coils and delivers warm air through existing ducts and registers There are safeties which eliminate the danger of over-pressurizing the system and automatic shutdown in case of a power failure. The Mahoning Outdoor Furnace can also be connected to an existing hydronic heating system, that operates at 180° F or less, using fin tube baseboard, cast iron radiators or hanging hydronic heaters. Only the thermostat and heating coils are installed inside your home, eliminating open fire dangers, smoke, dust and messy kindling wood boxes. Adjust the thermostat for the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace to your comfort setting and it automatically controls the water pump and blower to circulate heat to your home. You may set the thermostat for your existing heat system to back-up the Mahoning Outdoor Furnace when not in operation or in case the firebox is left to burn out. An Aquastat senses the temperature of the water in the outside unit and automatically adjusts the combustion rate to maintain the correct temperature (normally 180 degrees)

Hot Water too...!

A Mahoning Outdoor Furnace is a heat exchanger. By running a cold water line from your home to the outside unit, fresh household cold water can be heated and returned to the hot water plumbing in the house. A temporing valve adjusts the hot water at the faucets to a range of 120° to 160° This boiler system will adapt to any existing plumbing. Heat your pool & hot tub with energy generated by a Mahoning Outdoor Furnace!

If Your Silo Needs New Life...

Try Our Poly Silo Liners

-THE ADVANTAGE OF A POLY LINER-

- Spoilage is reduced around doors.
- Feed is exposed to less oxygen - better fermentation.
- Allows storage of high moisture grains or dry grains in a conventional silo.
- Delays repair or replacement of corroded silos.
- Prevents corrosive acids from contacting silo wall - extends silo life.
- Quick installation.
- Effectively seals silos from air and weather.

The Liners Are Manufactured To Fit Most Standard Diameter Silos.

WARNING, ALL SILO OWNERS

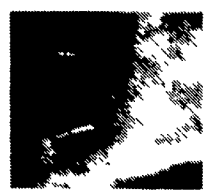
WARNING! DETERIORATING CONCRETE FROM CORN JUICE!

It's important that you know your silo needs maintenance. Your silo will not fall when its empty. Please check your silo for damage or check your insurance policy!

A Reminder: Check The Bottom Of Your Silo Where Using A Plastic Liner. Your Juice May Be Causing Deterioration Faster With A Liner On The Bottom.

RESURFACES INTERIORS:
- Coats the silo's interior
- Protects feed in storage
- Durable, tough, acid-resistant
- Increases useful life
- Economical

Before The silo's interior with plaster damaged and stave exposed



After The surface is reconditioned, and a new, thick tough surface will protect stored feed

ShotCrete is also good for repairing stone walls.

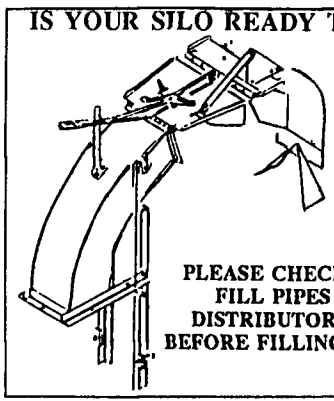
ATTENTION FARMERS
Strengthen And Reseal Your Silo With Shotcrete

STRONGER AND WILL OUT LAST PLASTER

IS YOUR SILO READY TO BE FILLED WITH GRASS SILAGE?



PLEASE CHECK YOUR FILL PIPES AND DISTRIBUTORS NOW BEFORE FILLING SEASON

S&S Silo Service prepares the silo surface by using a 3,000 lb. pressure washer, thus making the silo moist, making a much better surface to bond shotcrete. After shotcreting, S&S always takes away any roughness by applying a steel trowel finish.

The excellent bonding of shotcrete to the silo will keep out moisture and prevent mold from growing on the side of the silo.

CONCRETE REASONS WHY A NEW POURED CONCRETE SILO IS YOUR BEST INVESTMENT...

NO USED SILOS!
NO REBUILT SILOS!
NO PREOWNED SILOS!
"ALL NEW FOR YOU!!"

A. Enhancement of cash flow. Improved forage quality results in consistent, and increased milk production.

B. "Safe Silo" Our silos meet or exceed industry standards, reducing/protecting lender liability.

C. Initial Cost. Used or cheap pre-fab silos may have a lower initial cost, but based upon useful life, the new poured concrete silo will have a lower annual cost: due to longer life and lower maintenance costs.

D. Residual Value. Our new, poured concrete silos are built for "generations of use", and enhance the future value of the farm.

E. Storage Losses Reduced. Poured concrete silos consistently out-perform all other methods of storing and preserving the total digestible nutrients in forage crops.

F. Protecting Forage Quality. Oxygen and heat cause the most damage to stored silage and haylage. Our poured concrete silos are the very best system to PROTECT YOUR FORAGE QUALITY. "NOBODY PROTECTS FORAGE QUALITY LIKE WE DO...NOBODY"
